Stevenson Now Assured Of Democrat Nomination

Lausche Given Formal Boost For Presidency

'Favorite Son' Speech Delivered By DiSalle At Demo Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — Michael V. DiSalle, who wants to succeed Frank J. Lausche as governor, told the Democratic convention today that Ohio's "favorite son" can and will be elected president if nominated.

"He would prove to be our greatest vote getting asset and lead the Democratic party to victory in the nation as he has led the Democratic party to victory in Ohio," DiSalle said.

The speech offered the five-term governor's name to the convention which votes tonight on the nomination Lausche said he was unlikely to win.

Frank J. Lausche

DiSalle traced Lausche's political career from judge and mayor of Cleveland to the Statehouse in Columbus, where Lausche is the only Democrat holding elective administrative office. No other Ohioan has held more than three terms as governor.

"Sons of Ohio are automatically in the forefront of consideration when political parties gather to select their standard bearers," said former President Truman's price controller.

* * *

"BECAUSE OF his experience with public office, his record as a vote-getter, his knowledge of people and their problems," DiSalle added, "we are proud to present this living symbol of democracy in action."

Adlai E. Stevenson made a personal bid today for presidential nomination support from Ohio.

He addressed a caucus of the state's 58-vote delegation, most of which is pledged to Lausche.

Lausche was not present at the meeting of delegates, whose leaders said sentiment ran strongly for Stevenson's re-nomination.

Stevenson praised both Lausche, candidate for U. S. senator in Ohio's November election, and DiSalle, the nominee for governor.

'I will get no more satisfaction out of the November election," Stevenson said, "than to have Mike elected to the Senate. I mean Lausche to the Senate and Mike to the governorship," he hastened to add.

Fifty-four of Ohio's 58 convention votes are pledged to Lausche. But at least two delegates said they would bolt to Stevenson on the first ballot. They predicted others would join them.

Four delegates have declared for Stevenson all the way.

Harry Just Refuses To Quit Fighting

CHICAGO (AP) — Undismayed by the fact that Adlai Stevenson already has more than enough pledged votes for the Democratic presidential nomination, former President Harry Truman, who is battling for Averell Harriman, said this afternoon:

"They'll have to knock him out or beat him."

"Does this mean you have any real belief you might put this man (Harriman) over?" a reporter asked.

"Of course I have, or I wouldn't be in it," Truman replied.

Today's World News In Brief—

World Of Arabs Staging Protest

CAIRO (AP)—The Arab world protested the London conference on the Suez Canal today with work stoppages, parades and mass rallies supporting Egypt's nationalization of the waterway.

In Damascus, newspapers reported the flow of oil through the British-run Iraq Petroleum Co. pipelines stopped when Syrian wokers in pumping stations walked off their jobs.

Bazaars, shops and offices closed.

Only essential services were maintained in Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Egypt. However, no serious incidents were reported.

Jordan demonstrators, carrying flags and banners and shouting anti - Western slogans, marched through the streets of Amman. At noon there was five minutes of silence, with the demonstrators standing at rigid attention.

Downtown and suburban shops closed in Baghdad. As the Iraqi press denounced the London conference, a Foreign Office spokesman announced Egypt had accepted "in principle" Iraq's offer to mediate the Suez crisis.

Thousands of Syrians staged peaceful demonstrations and a five-minute silence was observed at noon "in mourning for freedom assassinated by the London conference," as a spokesman for the Syrian Arab Assn. put it.

Demonstrators waving pro - Egypt banners converged on Parliament Square in Beirut, Lebanon, to hold a mass rally denouncing the London conference.

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A Wrangell, Alaska, man has been arrested on a charge of tampering with a boat used by Charles Rudmann of Cleveland, Ohio, a Fish and Wildlife Service stream guard who has been missing 10 days.

Bert McCay was accused of unused by Rudmann. He was chargtying and setting adrift a skiff ed with interfering and impeding a federal officer in performing his official duty.

Rudmann, 24, a senior at Kent State University in Ohio, disappeared from his post Aug. 4. No trace of his has been found.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — A Hungarian Interior Ministry spokesman announced Associated Press Correspondent Endre Marton will be freed from prison today. He said Marton has been given full clemency.

The Budapest radio announced last Jan. 14 Marton had been sentenced to six years and his wife to three years on charges of spying for the U. S. Mrs. Marton was released last April. The Martons are Hungarian nationals.

HONG KONG (AP) —An American Roman Catholic bishop returned from five years of Red Chinese captivity today on his 59th birthday.

Smiling broadly, Bishop Henry Ambrose Pinger stepped briskly ashore from the British freighter that brought him from Communist Shanghai. The Lindsay, Neb., priest appeared in good health.

The bishop's release leaves 10 Americans imprisoned in China.

LONDON (AP) — The Egyptian Embassy announced today the number of southbound convoys through the Suez Canal is being reduced from two to one a day. The Egyptians blamed the curtailment on "a number of foreign pilots in Europe (who) have not returned to their posts at the end of their vacation."

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Babs, with winds of 110 miles an hour in its center, struck a glancing blow tonight at Japan's main southern island of Kyushu. No reports of casualties or damage there were immediately available.

One U. S. Navy airman was missing in the wake of the storm's fringe on Okinawa. Four others with him were rescued when their amphibious plane sank. The name of the pilot of the plane was withheld.

MOSCOW (AP)—Another vivid account of flaming Soviet youth at high levels has been unfolded in the Communist youth newspaper Komsomol Pravda.

Road Markings Being Repainted Throughout City

Crosswalk lane lines are being repainted throughout the city now.

School zone markings will be repainted before the opening of city schools on Aug. 31. Center lines will be redone when the city can obtain use of the state's marking machine, used for such purposes.

Motorists are reminded to observe the barricades put up where he lines are getting a fresh coat of paint. There are stiff penalties in store for those who do not observe this warning.

Section 4511.17 of the Ohio Revised Code states that anyone driving over a freshly painted line can be fined not more than $50 and costs for the first offense. A second such offense within one year can result in a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100, or imprisonment for 10 days—or both!

No Incidents Reported In Racial Fuss

Deputies were stationed near the home, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Lawson, to prevent any further threats or violence.

Telephone lines were cut and some rocks were hurled, terrifying Mrs. Lawson and her two children. Lawson, a Columbus postal clerk, was out of town when the incident occurred.

Officials said a preliminary probe indicated the violence was intended to force the Negro family to move from the area.

"Violence such as that might be expected in Russia, but not here. The Lawson home will be guarded if necessary to protect the family and the property," Curry said.

Deputies reported today that they turned over to the FBI an anonymous letter the Lawsons said they received two weeks ago. The letter warned the Lawsons to move from the all-white-area.

The FBI was expected to take up the matter with postal authorities, deputies said.

It Cost A Barn, But Rat Is Gone

So when he spotted the rat on a platform in the barn he fired at it with a .410-gauge shotgun, not noticing there was a box of dynamite on the same platform.

The explosion blew the roof and sides from the barn and hurled Friestad outside, knocking him unconscious. But Friestad said he was sure he got the rat.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy appeared doomed today to certain death in the cold reaches of the North Atlantic. Weathermen said they felt confident the hurricane would continue away from the mainland.

City And County Enrollments Will Be Higher

CHS Teacher Quits; 6 Jobs Still Open For Rural Schools

Both Circleville and Pickaway County school superintendents each expect enrollments to be increased by more than 130 pupils this year.

These are approximate figures, according to George Hartman, city superintendent of schools, and George McDowell, county schools superintendent. They are based on assumptions, they pointed out, but the increase will be close to that, they added.

However, the teacher picture does not appear to be as rosy. All of the vacancies in the city had been filled—as of yesterday. In the county, at least six positions remain open.

Herbert R. Powell, who had been hired to replace William Robinette to teach law-sales, consumer education and English 8 at Circleville High School, turned in his resignation today. He notified Hartman that he has been ordered to report for Army duty on Sept. 7.

* * *

POWELL, who had received a commission after completing Reserve Officer Training Corps courses at college, never had been called up to active duty. He is scheduled to report out in California.

Hartman said it might be difficult to replace Powell at this late date, with city schools scheduled to open in little more than two weeks.

McDowell said that although he was listing six vacancies in the county this figure could fluctuate rapidly.

Ike's Regime Is Labeled As U.S. 'Circus'

CHICAGO (AP)—For Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, the circus isn't dead; it's in Washington under the billing: Eisenhower administration.

Kerr used heavy ridicule in his speech to the Democratic National Convention last night when he lambasted the Republicans.

Of President Eisenhower's heart attack and operation, Kerr said:

"I don't aim to discuss the health issue because neither I nor any other man can tell whether Eisenhower could survive another four years of office.

"But the millions of American farmers know they could not survive another four years of Eisenhower."

Under Eisenhower, Kerr said, the families of farmers and workers have had "a terrible rendezvous with deception." He said Republicans are conducting "a billion-dollar circus" which he said lines up like this:

Armco President Resigns Position

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—W. W. Sebald, who rose from wagon driver to head one of the largest U.S. steel companies, announced last night he is resigning as president of Armco Steel Corp.

The announcement came at a golden anniversary dinner for Sebald.

Truman Seen Doing Adlai A Big Favor

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry S. Truman may have done Adlai Stevenson a favor by trying to keep him from getting the Democratic presidential nomination.

It figures this way: Four years ago Truman stumped the land for Stevenson. Stevenson lost. There are those, and Stevenson may well be one of them, who hold the view that the Democratic ticket would have run better if Truman had kept quiet.

In the opinion of most Stevenson advisers, Truman for all his good intentions didn't do the 1952 nominee any good when he stamped his endorsement on Adlai.

The candidate then became in the eyes of many, and of Republican orators in particular, the Truman candidate. And so Stevenson remained in the view of many despite repeated efforts to declare independence.

This year, Stevenson has no such problem—thanks to Harry Truman's opposing him.

Stevenson now can go before the voters as his own man, or at least not as Truman's man, something Averell Harriman couldn't have done if Truman's fight to get Harriman nominated had been successful.

Another boost Truman may have given Stevenson: calling him a "moderate."

Election Boards Getting '56 Data

COLUMBUS (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today sent to the 88 county boards of elections a general outline for the forms of three types of November general election ballots.

Office, non-partisan, and questions and issues ballots were prescribed. Brown said the letters went out earlier than required by law so that absent voter ballots might be mailed to members of the armed forces in plenty of time.

Brown said he will not prescribe the form of presidential ballots until Aug. 28 after both the Republican and Democratic national conventions are concluded.

For Want Of Dime, $200 Lost To Thug

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — A thug stuck up a tavern here last night. As he was concentrating on the bartender, one of the patrons ducked down behind the bar and inched his way toward a pay telephone.

Unnoticed by the thug, the patron fished in his pocket for a coin to phone police. He only had a nickel. Pay phones require a dime.

The holdupman got $200.

Ohio OKing Nixon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Ray C. Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman, arrived in San Francisco yesterday and predicted his state's 56-man delegation will vote solidly for Vice President Nixon as the second man on the ticket.

PUCO Assures City Opportunity To Protest Phone Firm Merger

Circleville's city council has been assured of being notified if and when the proposed merger between the strike-bound Ohio Consolidated Telephone Company and General Telephone Company comes before the state's Public Utilities Commission.

PUCO secretary Basil J. Boritzki made the promise in a letter to council president Ben Gordon. However, Boritzki noted that no such application has been received by the PUCO.

City council, at its last meeting, went on record as wanting to protest the proposed merger. Circleville, in taking this action, joined the city of Cambridge in effect blocking the merger of the two firms.

While another meeting of negotiators trying to settle the month-long strike of 600 employes against Ohio Consolidated was to be held again in the "neutral" city of Cincinnati, the striking Communications Workers of America Local 4373 here denied accusations made by the company.

* * *

THE FIRM, in an ad in The Herald, accused the union of forcing the strike. The union, in turn, has charged that the company has "twisted the facts".

Federal Mediator Edward Phillips of Columbus met separately with representatives of the Federal Communications Workers of America and management Tuesday, then adjourned sessions until today.

The strike has affected telephone service in parts of 24 counties in southern and eastern Ohio, with six exchanges in Jefferson County being closed.

Negotiations have progressed slowly, and at the last report the talks concerned only working conditions. The question of wages is yet to come up, it was understood.

The negotiaion sessions were transferred from Portsmouth so they could be held without interruption by other matters, Federal Mediator Phillips said.

A disturbance, one of several reported in recent weeks, occurred at St. Mary exchange early today, police said. A rock was thrown through a window at the home of the manager of the company and cables were cut, knocking out service to 13 subscribers, the police said.

New Indiana Turnpike Open To South Bend

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP)—Members of the Indiana Toll Road Commission and the Ohio Turnpike Commission opened the eastern half of the Northern Indiana Toll Road at one minute after midnight today.

Commission members were first onto the Ohio-to-South Bend section of the road as it was opened to the public, a full month ahead of the Sept. 15 contract date.

The opening means that motorists may now drive from New York City to South Bend without stops except at filling stations and state-line toll plazas.

It took a little emergency work to get the road in shape for use today. Lightning blew a two-foot hole in the pavement east of Howe earlier in the week, and workmen poured quick-drying cement in it yesterday.

Statutory speed limits of 65 miles per hour for automobiles, 55 for buses and 45 for trucks were in effect as the toll road opened.

The Toll Road Commission last night passed a resolution setting limits at 60 m.p.h. for buses and 50 m.p.h. for trucks, but avoided a clash with state police by making higher limits subject to approval by the attorney general. State police had said statutory limits would be enforced unless the attorney general should rule the commission has authority to raise them.

The road will be one of the most tightly patrolled in the country, with one state trooper for every 15 miles of superhighway.

Farmers Said Slow In Asking Refunds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only 400,000 of an estimated three million eligible farmers have applied for refunds on taxes paid on gasoline used on farms, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

This is the halfway point for filing refund claims for the tax paid during the first six months of 1956. The deadline for filing is Sept. 30.

A revenue spokesman said no figures were available on the amount of refunds paid the 400,000 who have filed. One source estimated the average might run around $10 each.

Fire Chief's Face Red As His Engine

He pulled a false alarm.

Bryan and fireman Gale McFarland yesterday were making the rounds to alarm boxes. In the downtown district, he opened a call box with a bottle opener but it failed to hold a mechanical spring and off went the alarm and the fire truck sped to the scene.

The fire chief had been pasting these decals on the boxes:

Fostoria Band Wins VFW Prize

DALLAS (AP) — Fostoria, Ohio, post captured first place in the senior band division of the drum and bugle corps contests here last night at the national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ohio teams finished second and third in the men's rifle drill team competition. The winner with 7.90 points was Milwaukee. Runnerup with 94.90 was East Liverpool and Alliance trailed close behind with 94.25 points.

690 Votes Lined Up For Ballot Tonight

Adlai Needs Only 686½; Kefauver Leading List Of Prospects For Veep

CHICAGO (AP)—Delegates to the Democratic National Convention were hearing numerous nomination speeches this afternoon, but only one seemed to be important—that given for Adlai E. Stevenson.

The 1952 party standard-bearer again had the assignment all sewed up even before young Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts put up the Stevenson name.

Early this afternoon, an Associated Press tabulation showed that there were 690 votes pledged to the former governor of Illinois. He will need only 686 tonight to win the official nod. By balloting time, the Stevenson bandwagon should be bogged down with late boarders.

Six additional votes from North Carolina put him over the top. Kansas had just thrown in 16. Together, the two states gave Stevenson 690—3½ more than needed for the nomination.

But most of the other one-time hopefuls for the nomination were all of a mind to let their names be presented to the convention. In some instances, there was the thought of a buildup for the future. And the opportunity to be praised simultaneously on most of the country's radio and TV stations doesn't come along often.

Adlai Stevenson

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who made the chief challenge to Stevenson in the week's maneuvering, insisted he was still in serious contention. He fired a telegram to all chairmen of state delegations telling them:

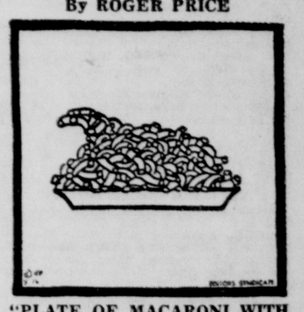
Taylor Holds Slim Lead In Idaho Race

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Former Sen. Glen Taylor held the lead by an eyelash today in Idaho's Democratic senator primary, but was far from a sure victory in his second try for a political comeback.

Only nine of the state's 893 precincts are uncounted. They are small and isolated, and it is uncertain whether they could change Taylor's 36-vote lead over his closest opponent, Frank Church, a Boise political newcomer.

DROODLES

By ROGER PRICE



"PLATE OF MACARONI WITH A COW LICK"

As this is the season of the year for Polls I decided to keep abreast of the times and take a Poll on this Droodle, sent in by Joan Washburn of Stowe, Vermont, and see if people could think of other titles for it. Here are the titles suggested: Dr. Schwine, "A Modern Sculpture of a Russian Wolf Hound made out of Cigarette Butts." Mrs. Goonsgarten, my landlady (I couldn't understand exactly what she called the Droodle because she was hollering pretty loud but it sounded something like "Bum four weeks behind with the rent"). Dr. Kitzenger, "A Garbage Scow with a Handle." Mrs. Schwine, "A thin Kit with a fat Kaboodle." Albert, my pet Marmoset, "Eeeeee skeee ak eek chomp chomp" (Translation — "Delicious").

Dulles Offers 4-Point Plan On Suez Canal

22-Nation Conference Now Underway; Egypt Experts On Sidelines

LONDON (AP) — The Western Big Three proposed today that the operation of the Suez Canal be made the responsibility of an international board, including Egypt linked to the United Nations.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, on behalf of the United States, France and Britain, presented a four-point plan for solving the international crisis blown up by Egyptian President Nasser's nationalization of the waterway.

Dulles told the 22-nation Suez conference the board proposed by the West would be established by treaty and would provide for operation of the canal in accordance with the 1888 Constantinople convention.

The plan would insure that the board could not be dominated by any single power or group of powers and would open the canal to all powers.

Dulles insisted the conference should seek to ascertain Egypt's views on any final position it might adopt.

* * *

A SOURCE CLOSE to the conference said Dulles put forward these other points:

1. The new arrangement must recognize Egypt's right to an equitable return, presumably from any profits from use of the canal.

2. Fair compensation should be paid to the stockholders of the nationalized Suez Canal Co.

3. Arbitration machinery should be agreed upon to settle any disputes that might arise out of these principles.

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov made a bid to broaden the conference to include 24 other nations, but agreed to waive procedural objections and expressed willingness to help in a peaceful solution to the dispute.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who boycotted the conference, kept an eye on the proceedings by sending some of his foreign affairs experts to London as sideline observers.

Geib's Recovery Being Delayed By Case Of Pneumonia

Frank (Junior) Geib of Fremont, formerly of Circleville, has developed pneumonia while recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident more than two weeks ago, according to word received here today.

Geib, son of former Circleville Herald editor Glen Geib, had reportedly improved considerably from his injuries until the pneumonia developed. He is still in Fremont Memorial Hospital, Room 180.

According to reports received here, Geib was driving to Fremont from Findlay when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car. The auto went out of control and struck a concrete abutment.

His injuries were listed as a broken arm, brain concussion and multiple lacerations.

County ASC Committee Ballots Due Back Monday

Candidates from each township in Pickaway County who have been nominated for the 1957 county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committee have now been listed.

The county ASC office reminds farmers that ballots must be mailed in so that it will be postmarked not later than midnight of next Monday, Aug. 20, or delivered to the county ASC office by closing time that same day.

Ballots will be counted by an election tabulation committee, consisting of Byron Bolender, John Schneider and Turney Glick. This group will also settle all questions as to eligibility to vote.

After the bllots have been tabulated, the person receiving the most votes will be declared chairman of the community committee and delegate to the county convention.

* * *

THE PERSON receiving the second highest number of votes will be declared the vice-chairman of the committee and alternate delegate to the county convention.

The person receiving the third highest number of votes will be third member; the fourth highest will be first alternate and the fifth highest will be second alternate.

The community and county ASC committees are responsible for carrying out the soil bank program, agricultural conservation program, price support programs, the acreage allotment and marketing quota programs, and the sugar programs formulated by Acts of Congress and any other programs assigned to the committee by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Congress.

Almost any farmer is eligible for election as a community committeeman if he has not, during the calendar year: (1) been a candidate for or held a Federal, state, or major county office filled by an election; (2) been an officer or an employee of a political party; and (3) been removed for cause from the ASC organization or from any public office or has not been convicted for larceny, embezzlement, or felony.

A farmer is eligible to vote if there is being carried out on his farm one or more of the current Agricultural Conservation Program practices; if he is eligible for a cooperator's loan or other price support; or if he is eligible for a payment under the Sugar Act program.

* * *

Magazine Sellers Told To Leave City After Complaints

City police today reported that five magazine subscription salesmen were ordered out of town for using "high pressure" tactics and abusive measures to gain entrance to local homes in efforts to make a sale.

According to police, at least four complaints were received from city residents concerning the salesmen.

Sgt. Turney Ross, investigating one of the complaints at a S. Scioto St. residence, said he caught one of the magazine seliers in the act of literally "forcing" his way into the house.

2 Local Residents Injured In Crash Near County Line

Two local residents were injured Wednesday in a traffic accident 17 miles southwest of Circleville on State Route 138 in Ross County, near the Pickaway-Ross County line.

Allen Eugene Prushing, 24, of 156½ E. Franklin St., the driver, and Stillman Morrison, 28, of 131 Parkview, both occupants in the same car, received multiple lacerations and bruises as a result of the two-car collision. The two men were taken to Berger Hospital.

The driver of the other car, Clarence R. Hyer, 31, of Frankfort was not injured in the crash, according to reports received by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. No other details were available as to how the crash took place.

City Judge Lamb Returns To Court Following Illness

Circleville Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb is scheduled to return to his duties today after being ill for approximately three weeks.

According to a court spokesman, the judge has not yet fully recovered but felt that he could conduct some sessions.

Police, Fire Calls

POLICE

No assaults, robberies, breakins or any other crimes were reported by police as of today.

Gas Valve Mistake Seen Blast Cause

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A state official says someone turned on a gas valve late Sunday or sometime Monday, unwittingly dooming 15 persons who died when the Lariat Cafe blew up Monday evening at Monticello, Utah.

Chairman Otto A. Wiesley of Utah's State Industrial Commission said a workman who helped change the restaurant over to natural gas Sunday testified he shut off the main valve on top of a propane gas tank.

Another witness said he shut off the same valve when he found it open after the blast had leveled the cafe.

What nobody apparently knew, Wiesley said, was that the line from the propane tank branched and served a nearby apartment house as well as the cafe.

"Someone from the apartment house may—I'm not saying they did, but they may—have gone over and opened the valve," Wiesley said.

He said leaking as apparently filled the cellar of the restaurant and the open flame in an oven touched it off.

State Maintenance Superintendent Job Goes To H. W. Siniff

Henry W. Siniff, of 430 E. Union St., has been appointed Pickaway County maintenance superintendent for the State Highway Department.

The appointment, which becomes effective on Sept. 1, was announced today by G. W. Alsdorf, division engineer of Division Six at Delaware.

Siniff, who has been with the Department of Highways for seven years, succeeds Joe Rooney, who resigned. Rooney is now in the construction department of Division Six as construction superintendent on the Circleville by-pass.

Admiral, 61, Dies

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Vice Admiral Lynde D. McCormick, 61, president of the Naval War College since 1954, died today at Naval Hospital of a heart attack.

Benjamin Franklin invented bifocal glasses to save himself the trouble of changing his spectacles when looking from near objects to far ones.

LAFB Airman Killed In One-Car Crash West Of Huge Base

A Lockbourne Air Force airman, identified as George W. Gabele, 19, of Rochester, Pa., was killed late Wednesday when his car struck a utility pole west of the base.

The accident took place on Route 665, a mile and a half east of Shadesville, according to the State Patrol. This would place the scene of the crash approximately 2½ miles west of the main entrance to the huge base.

In the absence of any word from Stevenson, the race appeared to be narrowing into a three-way contest between Senator Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore of Tennessee and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Estes Kefauver

None of these three took any public part in a carefully staged drama in which the party's conflicting Northern and Southern delegations met at the civil rights crossroads and decided to march into the general election campaign under one banner.

Urging that action was former President Truman, a Harriman backer who has contended Stevenson isn't a fighting candidate.

He put the question of adoption of the Northerners' minority report. There was a roar of "noes" followed by shouts of "aye."

"In the opinion of the chair—," Rayburn began. There was a chorus of "no, no, no."

"Now, just a moment," Rayburn said sternly. "I have taken the 'ayes' and 'noes' many times and I think I can tell who has the most.

"In the opinion of the chair, the "noes" have it and the minority report is rejected." Then he gaveled through the report of the McCormack committee.

James Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, said the decision had been made as between possible candidates. From another source it was reported, however, that Finnegan was arguing against selection of a Roman Catholic. Finnegan, a Roman Catholic himself, was represented as believing the religious issue ought not to be raised.

Roger Tubby, Stevenson's press secretary, said no word will be forthcoming from Stevenson about his choice until after he is formally nominated.

But Tubby listed half a dozen as under consideration. They included Kefauver, Humphrey, Kennedy, Gore, Wagner and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Stevenson has indicated he is toying with the idea of letting the convention pick his running mate from a selected list of men he regards as acceptable. The thought would be that with the top nomination apparently sewed up before balloting began, the delegates might like to see a real contest for second place.

At the moment, Kefauver appeared likely to have the strongest backing in any such contest.

2 Persons Injured Slightly In Separate Traffic Accidents

One person was reported injured in each of two accidents in Pickaway County Wednesday. Both were multiple car crashes.

In a two-car collision at Ashville-Fairfield and Circleville-Winchester Roads, Mary Kising, 18, of Hillsboro Route 1, received a laceration on the forehead. The injured girl was a passenger in the car driven by Ellen May Hollbrook, 29, of Ashville Route 1.

According to a report from the sheriff's office, the second car involved in the accident was driven by Russell Schafer of Alliance. He was not injured.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover said that the intersection where the accident happened is not marked by stop signs. He added that both motorists claimed they had slowed down, then proceeded on after not seeing stop signs.

* * *

BOTH CARS were heavily damaged in the accident according to Hoover. No arrests were made.

The second accident involved three cars in a mass collision one mile south of Circleville on Route 23. Scene of the mishap is near a construction area.

A car driven by Willard Estep, 41, of Waverly reportedly had stopped temporarily due to construction men working on the highway. The next car behind Estep apparently slowed down.

But a third car, driven by John M. Wolfe, 27, of Wellston, allegedly did not notice that the car in front of him was stopping. Wolfe's car rammed into the back of the vehicle in front of him, pushing the second car into the rear of Estep's halted auto.

Lecil O. Wesley, 54, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., driver of the second car, received a back injury. He was referred to Berger Hospital for treatment.

According to Deputy Hoover, all three cars were only slightly damaged.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

HARRY WICKENSIMER

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. in Peace Lutheran Church at Gahanna for Harry Wickensimer, a former Pickaway County resident. Mr. Wickensimer, 62, of Gahanna, died Tuesday night.

He was a son of John and Katherine Wickensimer. His wife, the former Marie Lowery, heads the list of survivors, which includes:

One son—Maurice Wickensimer of Indianapolis, Ind.; one daughter—Mrs. James Lamp of Pataskala; a granddaughter—Victoria Lamp; three brothers — George Wickensimer of Clarksburg, Louis Wickensimer of Hemet, Calif., and James Wickensimer of Circleville; also numerous nephews and nieces.

Burial will be in the Mifflin Township Cemetery at the direction of the Margarum Funeral Home of Gahanna.

Let's All Go Shopping!

By MRS. LEORA SAYRE
Home Economics Agent
Extension Service

On a recent print shopping trip, we were not certain whether we meant vegetable or fruit when tomatoes were listed.

Now to continue food family confusion, let's all go shopping for peaches, which certain specialists say belong to the prune family. Others classify them them the almond, the nectarine and the apricot. (The slang definition of a peach is "a handsome young girl".)

Wherever it originated or whatever you or I think it is, the peach is now thoroughly Americanized and runs close to the apple among fruits of commercial importance.

The fresh peach season is in full swing in Ohio. Peaches are at their luscious best during the last half of August and early September, according to marketing information specialists of Ohio State University.

* * *

REPORTS FROM producing areas indicate that the quality of the 1956 peach crop is excellent. So, the time for peaches and cream, peach shortcake, meringues, and peach pie is now.

A peach must look good to be good, marketing specialists tell us. A cream background color is the best indication that the peach is ripe.

Don't be fooled by the blush! It makes peaches very attractive but is not a sign of ripeness or sweetness. Bruised brown blotches and spots of sticky gum are danger signals.

Foodshoppers should look for peaches that are fairly firm, well developed in size and shape, and free from blemishes, shriveled or decayed spots and worm damage. Never pinch a peach to see if it is ripe.

Tree-ripened peaches are excellent in flavor, but are very difficult to ship because they bruise easily. To be sure of that tree-ripened flavor, foodshoppers who live near peach producing areas may want to select their fruit at the farm or roadside market. These fresh fruits are excellent in flavor and preferred over those which are picked less mature and shipped in from a distance.

* * *

PEACHES MAY BE classified according to their firmness as follows: hard—they will not ripen satisfactorily; firm-ripe — good choice, if buying in large quantity and to be used over a period of several days; ripe—excellent, if to be used immediately.

A pound of peaches, usually four medium-sized, served fresh, will usually make four servings. A bushel of peaches weighs about 48 pounds and will yield 18 to 24 quarts of canned fruit, or 32 to 48 pints of frozen fruit.

One medium raw peach contains 880 international units of vitamin A—a big step toward the daily requirement of 5,000.

Fully ripe peaches should be stored in the refrigerator in a single layer to prevent bruising.

So that the peach parade can continue the rest of the year, foodshoppers should take advantage of this abundant good quality supplies with canning and freezing objectives definitely in mind.

* * *

FOR PEACHES and cream, we suggest an accompaniment of "pie crust cookies", the recipe for which comes from the favorite file of Mrs. Ralph Dennis of Monroe Township. Her recipe is:

Sift 2¼ cups of flour and 1 cup of sugar together in a bowl; add ½ cup shortening and mix like pie crust; add 1 egg, ½ cup sour cream with ½ teaspoon of soda, ½ teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon of vanilla. Stir all together with fork, chill, and drop on cookie sheet and bake 350 degrees.

For the shortening in these cookies and other baked products, you will soon be able to secure a yellow lard. This lard is said to be smokeless, odorless, low fat absorbing, and palatable as a spread.

It will be sold in one and three-pound containers and will sell for approximately 20 percent less than vegetable oil shortenings of comparable weight. The product does not require refrigeration according to the American Institute of Food Distribution, Inc.

GOP Thankful For Ammo From Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are going to thank former President Truman for some unexpected campaign ammunition if Adlai Stevenson is renominated by the Democrats.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) summed up today the idea expressed by several recent White House callers and GOP legislators still in Washington when he said in an interview, "We should put Harry Truman on our (party) payroll."

Others have said the Republicans expect to make the fullest use in the campaign of Truman's implication that Stevenson lacked experience and might require a "costly and dangerous trial and error" period to break him in if elected.

Truman made the statement last Saturday — without naming Stevenson specifically — in calling Gov. Averell Harriman of New York the best qualified man for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Truman also said last Tuesday that Stevenson could not win if nominated, but he modified this a bit at a news conference Wednesday by saying Stevenson "cannot win the election himself without a lot of help." He added Stevenson could win with the help of "the old man from Missouri"—Truman himself.

Potter, who is leaving Friday for the GOP convention in San Francisco, commented:

"Certainly if the man who considers himself the sage of the Democratic party is apprehensive about the ability of Stevenson, I think the American people should be apprehensive."

Medical Care Biggest Item In Cost Rise

Bill For Doctor, Pills Up One-Fourth Within Last Six Years In U.S.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)— Medical care has taken the biggest rise of any item on the cost of living index. It is one-fourth higher than six years ago.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics put medical care now at 132 per cent of the 1947-49 average, compared with 116.2 for the entire Consumer Price Index. also at a record high.

The cost rise hasn't deterred Americans from seeking more medical attenton than ever before and accepting newer and costlier treatments almost without question. But the high costs have sparked a rush for insurance protection that is most spectacular.

The Health Insurance Council, a group of eight insurance associations, reports today that benefit payments under voluntary health insurance programs are running one fifth higher this year than last. Total payments under these plans in 1955 for hospital, surgical and other medical expenses, plus loss of income benefits, topped three billion dollars.

The Council estimates a record 110 million Americans are now covered by hospital insurance — a gain of 6 per cent in a year and nine times as many as in 1941. Hospital charges paid for them last year came to more than 1½ billion dollars, with the insurance companies and the Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans splitting the bill fairly evenly.

Surgical expense protection is held by 94 million now — 17 times as many as in 1941.

This is only part of the story, however. Millions of employes have some loss of income protection through paid sick leave plans, including those administered by unions or employe mutual benefit associations. Workmen's compensation laws protect about 45 million against expense and income loss due to occupational accident or disease. The federal government gives four millon persons, mostly military, complete medical care and some 3½ million veterans can get complete care for service connected disabilities.

Liberalization On Packaged Liquor Asked

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Ohio State Federation of Labor, hoping to wind up its annual convention here Wednesday, has received a request that the federation support a proposal that state laws on sale of package liquor be liberalized.

The Ohio State Council of Hotel and Restaurant Employes' and Bartenders' Union asked for adoption of a resolution proposing that by-the-drink permit holders be allowed to sell package liquor from the time state liquor stores close until their own closing time.

The council said it was making the proposal in an effort to curb bootlegging of liquor after the state stores close.

Delegates also heard speeches by U. S. Sen. George H. Bender, Republican candidate for re-election; Nathan Bar-Yaacov, labor attache of the Israel Embassy, and Walter Mason, American Federation of Labor representative in Washington.

Mason, reporting on the work of the last Congress, was critical of failure to amend the Taft-Hartley law, but he commended the raising of the minimum wage rate from 75 cents to $1 and changes made in the social security law.

A-Engine Roars For 66 Full Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—A duplicate of the atomic engine which powers the submarine Nautilus has been run at full power for 66 days and nights without refueling.

The Atomic Energy Commission, announcing completion of the test run at its Idaho testing station, said the experiment was made "to prove the reliability and stamina of pressurized water reactors for ship propulsion."

"If the Nautilus itself had made a cruise for this length of time—1,600 hours — she could have steamed at top speed, submerged, around the world and many thousands of miles more," it said.

Ohio Gasoline Tax Take Jumps

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers says that Ohio collected $146,759,242 in gasoline tax n the fscal year ended June 30, 1956.

Bowers said this represented an increase of more than $11 million or 8.13 per cent over the 1955 fiscal year collection.

Refunds for 1956 totaled 17,832,880, more than $233,000 or 3.07 per cent over the amount refunded the previous year, Bowers said.

OIL AND MIDDLE EAST

AMONG DEVELOPMENTS in recent days in the Middle East was an announcement in Damascus that Syria and Egypt have prepared a draft plan for a federal union "similar in many ways to the federation of the United States of America."

This is significant because of the threat of even wider Arab solidarity in the face of threats by the British and French to use force to keep the Suez Canal in friendly hands. It spells trouble for the big powers; but also it may spell some difficulties for President Nasser of Egypt.

If the union comes off and the other Arab nations permit it, Egypt would have a powerful tool in its hand. For Nasser could then use direct influence on Syria to have that nation shut off the flow of oil through the pipelines from Iraq and Arabia which run inside its borders.

Another interesting point for speculation, though, involves the reaction of the other Arab nations to such a tieup and, ultimately, to the threat of such an oil shutoff. Iraq and Arabia both have large stakes in keeping the oil pipelines (and the Suez) open; if these were to be cut, then much revenue that flows into those countries would be cut off.

Such a cutoff would have serious consequences for Britain, but at least the British could get oil from the United States, although that would result in a shortage in this country. But it would almost scuttle the economy of Iraq which has to have the oil funds just to stay in business as a government.

The British know these fact and undoubtedly will consider the use of such indirect pressures on Egypt and Syria before going to the drastic extreme of starting a shooting "holy" war with all its violent consequences.

WHAT OF OLD ROADS?

AS THE NEW federal-state highway program begins to take shape, the various states are planning to provide their share of the cost. The state's part is called "matching" funds and will go for interstate, primary, secondary and urban road building and improvements.

Evidently the program is pitched mainly on building divided super-highways and four-laning or at least widening some of the traffic lanes now classified as major highways. Many motorists are beginning to wonder what is to become of the roads that are not on the interstate network and not major highways.

Of course the states will take full advantage of the new federal road program. They will meet the fund-matching requirements to build as many interstate roads, and to widen as many of the existing major highways, as can be projected and completed under the farflung plan.

But just as important is the repairing of any number of old, rough, thinly-based, curvy, narrow and almost worn-out roads with which many states have been plagued for too long. Maintenance on many of the roads, which were poorly built, has required much of the road money of the states for a generation.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

A very important decision was handed down in the New York State Court of Appeals in the case of Joe Julian vs. American Business Consultants, Inc., publishers of the book "Red Channels" which stirs such controversy as it was assumed by many whose names appeared in this book that they lost employment because of it. Joe Julian is a radio actor and is cited in that book in relation to organizations that are regarded by some as pro-Communist.

Julian sued for libel. The lower courts held that "Red Channels" had not libeled him and he appealed to this highest court in New York State. The defendants claimed that they merely engaged in fair comment. The court held, with one dissenting opinion to which I shall refer, that "The public always must be given the opportunity to make its own decision.

To this end, the right to speak and write freely in regard to public personalities has always been defended as long as the right is exercised openly and reasonably. In this way the public can judge those reporting, as well as those reported.

The clandestine work of bigotry and intolerance flourishes when comment is suppressed. Those who seek public acclaim and support, cannot expect immunity from criticism or insist that the public remain uninformed regarding their activities. The conduct of public figures is legitimate matter of investigation. . ."

Further the court held:

"Free speech is not the sole property of special classes of our people, such as radical or liberal dissenters, or opponents of censorship. Every person has the right of free speech, even the moderate, the conservative dissenter and the prude.

"The plaintiff had the rights of assembly, of petition, and the exercise of free speech in attending a Communist front meeting organized to set in motion measures designed to abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee, and to call for a second front in Europe in October, 1942, after our entry into World War II and while we were under intense attack by the Japanese, although the Government's domestic and foreign policies were otherwise.

"To the same extent, his fellow citizens have a right to show who organized the meetings, why in their opinion they organized the meetings, and whether the meetings were part of a plan, and what standing the organizers of the meetings have in the community and whether in their opinion it impaired his qualification for employment in an industry disseminating news and ideas."

The court particularly made the case that Communists and their friends sought special privileges:

". . .The sum of the plaintiff's argument is that comment is actionable if it is directed at any one who, though not a Communist, associates with Communist fronts. Associating with Communist fronts, in other words, coupled with comments thereon, creates a prima facie indefensible case of libel. Such a rule would establish a privileged class of citizen and would be wholly un-American.

"Safeguarding and protecting the individual liberty of freedom of speech for all is for the general good, though it may work a private injury. The injury in one's trade or occupation can be equally as severe to a conservative, moderate or prude when attention is called to their activities, as well as to the radical, liberal and opponent of censorship. . ."

This opinion negates what has come to be known as the Fuld Decision which Communist unless the person admits to bemakes it libel per se to identify one as a ing one and naturally Judge Fuld dissents

Challenge For Dr. Mays

CHAPTER 22

THE NEXT afternoon Lacey took Johnny to the park. He was delighted to see his friends again, and at his first opportunity broke away to tell the sandbox crowd about his new dog.

Lacey walked slowly, ever more slowly, along the path, around the lilac bush—and sat down quietly beside the man slanted like a board against a bench.

"Chad," she said softly, stopped, and started again. "I wanted to see you, to talk to you about—about—"

Her voice faded, and died. All the fire of her resolution had blinked out and she was left alone with her hunger for this man's touch, his word, his understanding—and with her fear that he would misinterpret the reason why she had sought him out.

"Chad . . .?"

"Yes, darling?"

The endearment almost threw her, but she recovered. "I read an article about Dr. Wilkins-Smith."

"So did fifty thousand other people. About a tenth of them will write me letters, or phone."

"What will you say to them?"

"Nothing, mostly," he said, smiling at her. Then the smile widened, and warmed. "But if you're troubled . . ."

"I am. I mean, I thought I knew about the clinic, but so many things that he brought out—"

He shrugged. "You don't think I should let Wilkins-Smith call the dance, do you?"

"No—not if he's wrong."

Chad tipped his head back, gazed up at the twiddling leaves for a minute. "Let's see. He suggested that forty-five minutes was a very short time in which to make a complete check-up."

"Was he right?"

"Oh, yes. He was dead right."

Lacey stiffened to shocked attention.

"You can't test for cancer and T. B. in that short time," he went on, quietly.

"But, Chad . . ."

"It goes this way, dear," said the young doctor gently. "The clinic's purpose is screening. Screening for symptoms of sickness. We want to discover diseases in their early stages, so that people will not become ill—bedridden, that is—for years, or die prematurely. For the work we're doing forty-five minutes is plenty long enough to detect many symptoms of trouble."

"Your ideal," she said softly, "is to help as many people as possible—or rather to persuade them to help themselves."

"I get paid for the job I'm doing," said Chad bluntly.

"Chad," she ventured after a minute's thought, "why don't you practice?"

He sighed. "Might have known. Well—people act upon me like a virus; literally, they make me sick! I run a temperature of nastiness, and spread an influenza of rudeness. In short, my darling, people are fools, consistently, and I am always telling them so."

"You don't believe that."

"I know it!"

"No, because if you did, why would you be so anxious to help those same people?"

"Oh, that's science. The work I do for these clinics can be resolved to statistics and predictable results. I'm interested in that sort of mental exercise."

He turned on the bench to look earnestly into her face. "The one thing I don't like about the work I'm doing," he confessed "is the need to sell myself. Dr. Chadburn Mays must make speeches, talk to civic groups and medical societies. And it makes a big difference if I dress in a shirt and tie or show up in a coverall advertising paint. I not only have to sell the clinic, I have to sell me—especially when there's a character like this Wilkins-Smith involved. He's a personality rather than an idea, so I'll have to fight him on that basis. Overcome his personality with my own."

"What about Mother's party?" she asked abruptly. "Are you coming to that?"

"Must I?" he asked resignedly.

"You should," she said firmly. "You see—Mother's doing it for a purpose. It's to be a tea for the Women's Club . . ."

She went on to explain, briefly and clearly, that her mother was moving the battle into enemy territory by inviting the members to meet Dr. Mays.

"Will I meet this Wilkins-Smith?"

"No. Just those he has indoctrinated."

He sighed mightily. "Tell me what to do," he said gloomily.

So Lacey told him, and on the day of her mother's tea, Chad arrived, handsomely boyish in a well-cut suit of blue-gray sharkskin, a white shirt and fresh tie. His shoes were polished to a gleam.

He was so successful a lion that Mrs. Castleberry, the Club President, made fluttering attempts to keep him close to her, to guide his progress across the terrace.

He made a complete job of it, too, never appearing to be merely kind or condescending.

Lacey was pleased with him. When the party was about over, and nearly everyone had told him it was so nice to meet you, Dr. Mays, she came to him, with love shy in her eyes, and pride glowing in her heart. "You were wonderful, Chad. So sweet—especially to the tiresome ones. I loved you for it."

"Don't praise me," he said. "I did it because I wanted to. I was the same way in school. I found it much more interesting to fall in love with a cross-eyed girl than a pretty one."

The words struck her with the brassy clamor of a copper gong. She winced and drew back, her hands going up to her throat in an automatic gesture of warding off further hurt. Chad stood watching her, his eyes dark.

"Did you . . .?" she asked softly. "Did you try to hurt me then, Chad?"

"You shouldn't have been hurt. I was just telling the truth."

Lacey stood very still, slim, straight and clean. "Do you always tell that kind of—truth?" she asked, gently firm.

"Well, why not?" He watched her as alertly as a child would watch an unknown animal. "Better, isn't it, than telling a lie, better than pretending right now that I was being big-hearted or noble? Honesty is always better. The whole universe—" his arm swept up, outward and around to include the terrace, the shadowy trees, the world beyond "—it's much better if sham doesn't exist in anything."

Lacey turned and walked toward the house.

"Don't you agree, Lacey?" he called after her.

"No," she said over her shoulder, and almost indifferently.

Chad looked honestly puzzled. After a minute he went swiftly down the terraced lawn to the highway, swiftly along its shoulder. That time he'd tried to explain—and still he'd hurt her. Didn't she know that it was phoniness at which Chad tilted his lance? These days a man with a lance had a tough enough time wielding it, he shouldn't have to explain about it. Not to someone who loved him, he thought stubbornly.

If she did love him. He must ask Lacey about that, some time.

Jerry Marcus is the artist who drew the now-famous cartoon of the switchboard operator at Jones, Jones, Jones and Jones, asking sweetly over the phone, "Which one, please? Curly, Butch, Shorty or Pinhead?"

And B. Brown showed an auto salesman explaining to a prospective customer, "The price tag on this beautiful car refers to the city, state and federal taxes. The price is additional."

Top price for the day at a recent auction was reached when the auctioneer shouted, "Sold! To the nice little lady with her husband's hand over her mouth."

This Is 'S-Day' For Many

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—This is "S" Day. The "S" stands for sneeze for five million Americans.

It is the opening of the annual hay fever season, when man's best friend is no longer his dog but his pocket handkerchief or the nearest air conditioning machine.

For the next month the land will resound with the wheezing and sneezing of more than five million U. S. victims of this peculiar allergy, which seems to be as old and as mysterious of origin as man himself.

Beware the watery eyed sufferer for the next 31 days. Avoid the mischievous temptation to tell him that hay fever, like seasickness, is all in the mind, or that "it's no worse than an ordinary cold."

Hay fever is no joke to the mna who has it. Nor is it any joke to industry. The U. S. Public Health Service estimates hay fever costs 24,750,000 lost work days each summer.

Dr. Rudolph L. Mayer, discoverer of pyribenzime, an antihistamine used in its treatment, lists allergies (hay fever is a leading form) among the first three chronic diseases in America, exceeded in number of cases only by heart ailments and mental illness.

"Actually, the first hay fever symptoms were described by physicians in Greece five centuries before the time of Christ," said Dr. Mayer.

These ancient doctors prescribed remedies of arsenic and belladonna to ease the discomfort, and arsenic is still used in some patent medicines today in the form of Fowler's solution.

Hay fever is peculiarly prevalent in America, oddly enough, because of our prosperity. It is caused by airborne giant ragweed pollen. In Europe and Asia, where almost every scrap of land is carefully tilled, there is no place for ragweed to spread, and the incidence of hay fever is low. But here ragweed has bourgeoned on acres spared from the plow, and all attempts to stamp it out have failed.

Antihistamines, which at frst seemed to offer a satisfactory way of alleviating the discomforts of hay fever, turned out to have a drawback. They made some people sleepy, thus were potentially dangerous to truck drivers, salesmen and others who spend long hours on the highways.

Now a new drug called plimasin, a combination of antihistamines and ritalin, a stimulant against fatigue and mental depression, has been introduced. Dr. Jerome J. Sievers, chief of the allergy service at Los Angeles Children's Hospital, tested the drug and found it gave relief in many cases and had few side effects.

But all present forms of treatment are palliative only. No real cure has been found, and none is on the horizon.

There is one surefire prescription for beating hay fever, but it's hard to follow.

Hole up in an air-filtered room, hang a "Do not disturb" sign on the door, and hibernate there until the season is over.

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

WITHOUT an adequate blood supply you'll die.

An adequate blood supply is essential to the various individual parts of your body. For without it they also will die. This usually means gangrene and a serious threat to your life.

Many Causes

Arterial occlusion, the sudden blocking of this blood supply to a limb, can be caused by a number of things.

Symptoms vary, of course.

In about half of the cases, there is sudden and extreme pain. If an extremity is affected, it usually will become pale and you will feel numbness as well as a tingling sensation.

Only a doctor is qualified to treat this serious situation. But there are certain things the patient's family should know.

To Aid Blood Flow

For one thing, the head of the bed should be raised about half a foot. Or the patient can be placed in a semi-sitting position. This places the affected limb lower than the heart and lets gravity aid the flow of blood.

The limb should be protected from infection, pressure and dehydration. It should be wrapped loosely in a layer of cotton wadding kept in place with a roller bandage. This will help keep it warm. But remember, the temperature around the limb should not exceed 92 degrees Fahrenheit.

Don't Apply Heat

Don't apply heat directly to the affected part unless ordered to do so by your doctor. And don't elevate the limb without orders.

Perhaps your doctor will advise use of a heating pad on the abdomen if he thinks reflex heat may be beneficial. Or perhaps he will suggest immersing the arms in hot water if the feet are affected. This, too, provides reflex heat without applying warmth directly to the affected part.

Smoking should be banned. Whiskey and brandy, however, might aid circulation.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. J.: Would taking vitamins daily take the place of sleep?

Answer: Although vitamins are helpful, it is advisable for you also to get enough sleep.

Actress Shocks Film Studio, Says She Couldn't Dance

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —In this rock 'n' roll age it's downright amazing to find a young movie star luscious enough to be a "Miss America" finalist, yet who never learned to dance.

But it's so.

Vera Miles, touted as one of the hottest screen properties in months, is a girl who never had been on a ballroom floor until this week.

And it took an important movie scene then to get her there. She is playing Betty Compton, the second wife of the late Jimmy Walker, in "Beau James."

Bob Hope plays Walker. In one of the key scenes, the dapper New York mayor takes Miss Compton dancing in the Central Park Casino while still married to his first wife. At the time, the incident amounted to political suicide for Walker, a favorite with New York's big Catholic voting bloc.

Vera said she dreaded the scene for weeks but finally broke the news to director Mel Shavelson, producer Jack Rose and Hope.

When she told them she couldn't dance, they chorused as one: "You're kidding!"

It was a first for Paramount studio. Not in the memory of the studio's oldest timer had such a problem arisen before. Dancing, like cheesecake, is taken for granted as a necessary stock-in-trade for all pretty girls in Hollywood. And Vera is definitely not the wallflower type.

Asked how such a pretty girl ever escaped dancing check-to-cheek with boyfriends all these years, she explained:

"I've just been too busy working all these years. When the kids in my high school class were out dancing, I had to work nights to keep in school."

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Carson Hoy has set Nov. 1 for start of trial of Robert Lyons, 43, water meter reader charged with slaying a suburban housewife.

Adlai's Aunt Letty Campaigning, Too

Q—I am unemployed and need a job. Can you help me to find one?

A—Sorry, I can be of no help to you in this matter. I wish I could. I certainly would like to have a listing of jobs available in this office, and if I could get the different employers of the county to cooperate with me and bring to me openings for jobs they may have, I think I could fill them with pretty good men.

However, this is not being done at the present time, so I cannot help you to find a job. My only suggestion is to see the Ohio State Unemployment Office in the Memorial Hall on Tuesdays and Thursday, or go to the Unemployment Office in Columbus.

Q—Can I get a 100 percent G I loan?

A—This question has been asked of me many many times. A while back the answer was yes, you could get a 100 percent GI loan, provided you could find a lending agency that would permit it. Now, you cannot.

Even if you were to find a lending agency that was willing to grant a 100 percent G I loan, the VA would not permit it. You must pay at least 2 percent down.

Most lending agencies, however, demand a minimum of 10 percent down on all G I Loans.

Q—Five years ago, I filed a claim for service connection, which was allowed to zero percent. In other words, it does not pay any monetary allowance. My disability is now worse, and I feel that my claim should be reopened and reviewed. What should I do?

A—You should contact your family doctor, have him write a statement concerning your service connected disability, showing the condition of the disability at the present time. If this statement shows that the disability is worse than it was five years ago, the VA will call you in for an exam by their doctors, and if everything goes well, your rating will increase to 10 percent of more, which will pay a monetary allowance each month.

Q—I need to go to the VA hospital for treatment for my service connected disability. I have heard that if I go, I will have to spend several months there before my condition is helped any. I can't afford to be away from my job that long, as my family needs my weekly pay check. What shall I do?

A—Go to the hospital by all means, stay as long as they want you to stay to arrest your condition.

As for finances, your service connected compensation will increase to 100 percent after your 21st day in the hospital, which should just about take care of your financial difficulties. If it does not, further consideration can be given by the Pickaway County Veterans Relief Commission.

Q—I was discharged from the service eight months ago. Since my discharge, I have been treated for hypertension, or high blood pressure. This disability seems to be getting worse, and my doctor is concerned.

However, I was never treated for the disability while in the service. Is there any possibility of having the VA take this case over?

A—Yes, there is, very much so. Even though you were not treated for the disability while you were in the service, hypertension is one of the few disabilities which if diagnosed within the first year after your discharge is presumed to have originated while in the service.

I suggest that you have your doctor make out a statement concerning this disability at the current time. If the VA rates your disability at 10 percent or more, they will allow your claim, grant your service connection and allow you a compensation and out-patient treatment.

Teacher Retirement Ruling Is Given

COLUMBUS (AP)—Members of the Ohio Teachers Retirement System who retired after Aug. 31, 1955, are entitled to have interests on contributions prior to that date figures at four per cent and after the date at three per cent.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has made that ruling.

A similar formula was applied to members of the School Employes Retirement System who retired after June 30, 1955.

The opinion went to L. D. Shuter and Ward Ashman, executive secretaries of the Teachers and School Employes Retirement Systems, respectively.

Business Volume Drops In County For July 28 Week

Business in Pickaway County for the week ending July 28 was way below that of a year ago, according to the latest statement on the sale of prepaid tax stamps.

For the week ending on that date this year, a total of $5,088.22 was recorded. This compares with $8,933.82 for the same week in 1955.

The decrease reflected a statewide trend, according to a regular weekly report issued by Roger W. Tracy, state treasurer.

Total collections since the start of the present fiscal year on July 1 are also behind those of 1955. From July 1 to July 28 this year, $21,980.86 has been collected. For the same period in 1955, $27,128.68 was reported.

Pilot Lands Plane Safely, Then Dies

ELK CITY, Idaho (AP) — Frank Small, pilot for a Missoula, Mont., flying service, stepped from his plane after an emergency landing at Elk City air field Monday, took a few steps and collapsed.

He died a few hours later. Officials said he apparently had a heart attack while flying.

Small had been dropping supplies to rangers who parachuted into Nex Perce forest to fight a fire.

TO LEAN OR NOT TO LEAN, PISA TOWER CONTROVERSY

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
Central Press Association Correspondent

PISA, Italy—This ancient city's famous leaning tower is leaning more than ever, and controversy rages over what to do about the structure that is one of the earth's best-known landmarks and on virtually every list of nominations for "the seven wonders of the world."

The tower—actually the campanile or bell tower for the nearby cathedral also built of black and white marble—was begun in 1174 by Bonanno, a famous Italian architect and builder, and must have started leaning during its construction.

It was 15½ feet out of perpendicular when measured in 1829, and the leaning had increased exactly a foot by 1910. At that rate, the tower had considerable promise of the future, but today's crisis arises from the fact that the incline has increased to 17.15 feet and is progressing by 0.27 inches yearly.

* * *

THOSE TAKING a decided view about the tower fall into several distinct categories:

The Italian scientists and engineers, whose latest spokesman is Prof. Giovanni Boaga of the University of Rome, inclining to the view that the tower should be dismantled stone-by-stone and rebuilt in the right way, since they contend all measures to arrest the lean have failed.

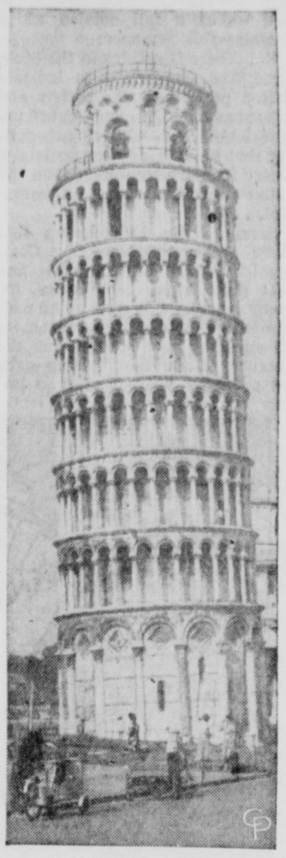
The American engineers (naturally somewhat resented here as interlopers), who maintain that the tower can be shored up as is and made to stand in status quo for many more centuries. Four measures have been proposed—producing a horizontal push against the tower on the low side, a horizontal pull away from the tower on the high side, increasing vertical support under the foundations on the low side, or removing a portion of the foundation support on the high side.

Curiously, it never has been determined for sure whether or not the original builders intended for the tower to lean. Generally it is assumed that the incline is an accident, arising from the fact that the massive structure rests on a foundation only 10 feet deep set in soggy soil.

* * *

APART from the fact that it leans, the 179-foot tower would be remarkable. It is perfectly round, with walls 13 feet thick at the base, and at the top about half as much. The eighth story, which contains the bells, is of much smaller diameter than the rest of the tower, and has only 12 columns.

A trip to the top is a dizzying experience, with the lean being much accentuated and the curvature and revolutions of the earth adding factors that unbalance even those with the best equilibriums.



The Leaning Tower of Pisa.

Pisa's most famous son, the famed scientist Galileo, made good use of the local resources when he climbed the tower to drop objects of various sizes, demonstrating that they fell at the same rate and establishing the scientific "law of falling bodies."

* * *

WHEN THE TOWER is suggested as "a wonder of the world," people here believe the term should include the entire cathedral group, including the great church, designed by Buschetta and Rinaldo, the baptistery, and the Campo Santo, lying to the north of the cathedral, which was made particularly sacred by bringing 53 shiploads of earth from Calvary.

Pisa has a proud history, including the fact it was one of the first towns to assert its independence of Byzantine rule, and in the early city wars it was allied with Genoa and came out well. Its medieval walls still stand.

While there are local citizens who regret that their city's global fame arises because some builder "goofed," particularly when so much good building was done in the vicinity, there is no denying that the Leaning Tower is a tremendous asset in attracting hordes of visitors annually.

Beaten Inmate, 18, Released On Bond

HAMILTON (AP)—Kenneth Lyttle, 18, critically injured last July 6 when beaten by fellow prisoners at Butler County jail, was released from Mercy Hospital yesterday into the custody of his parents.

He was released under $2,500 bond pending action on an indictment charging him with armed robbery. The three youths who beat and kicked him in his cell have been sentenced to terms at Ohio State Reformatory.

Burglary Tool Hearing Slated

COLUMBUS (AP) — A municipal court judge has set bonds of $20,000 each on four men charged with possession of burglary tools.

Judge John C. Duffy set the bonds on Vincent Innocenzi, 36, Anthony J. Velletto, 40, Thomas Rudelik, 32, all of Cleveland, and Dave F. Tiburzio, 32, of Hubbard.

The four are scheduled to appear in court today for a preliminary hearng.

The four, arrested last Thursday in Mt. Gilead had an array of keys and locksmith tools worth thousands of dollars, police said.

CHICAGO (AP) — It may have looked like a big fight. It wasn't. What happened on civil rights at the Democratic convention was handled so smoothly you'd think it was done with mirrors.

The Southern Democrats forced the rest of the party into a compromise on the civil rights plank of the platform. A small resistance was put up by a handful of Democrats from the North, East and West.

When this occurred the Southerners were so sure of themselves that they never uttered a word of protest. They let the leaders of the party—undoubtedly by prearrangement—handle the situation.

And they did. These leaders—including former President Truman—drowned out the protests by calling the compromise a sturdy document and a big advance over anything the party ever offered before.

In the 1948 and 1952 elections, each time after an explosive fight by Southerners over the civil rights plank adopted at the convention, the Democrats lost four Dixie states.

This year, when President Eisenhower seems an odds-on winner anyway, the party leaders desperately wanted unity. They came here dreading a party-shattering fight.

The South didn't have to make Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi and former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia—worked diligently to get a watered-down civil rights plank.

Battle himself said: "We were conciliatory and we think it paid off."

The Southerners particularly did not want in the platform a statement saying that, if the Democrats won, they would back the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation.

The two leading candidates for the party's presidential nomination—Adlai Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York—had urged that the platform contain such a statement.

The Southerners won. The plank as agreed on by the convention reads:

"We reject all proposals for the use of force to interfere with the orderly determination of these matters by the court." Just what that means depends on who's reading it. It definitely does not pledge a Democratic administration in Washington to back up court orders.

Zirconium Plant To Be Erected

CLEVELAND (AP)—A test plant to produce zirconium, a rare metal used in the atomic energy field, will be built in the Cleveland area by Kennecott Copper Corp., President Charles R. Cox reports.

The plant is scheduled to be in operation late next year. The cost was not announced.

Ore Shipping Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—With the end of the steel strike, shipments of iron ore on the Great Lakes jumped to 1,824,586 tons in the week ended Monday, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. reports. The previous week's shipments totalled only 280,202.

Penitentiary Removal Said Needed Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. John D. Porterfield said today the next logical step in expansion of the state's penal system will be removal of the Ohio Penitentiary from downtown Columbus to a rural site.

Porterfield, director of the State Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, made the statement in connection with release of an architect's sketch of the proposed 11-million-dollar southern Ohio reformatory near Lebanon.

The director said the Lebanon institution is designed to house 1,500 of them.

"The new Marion Correctional Institution, which is currently taking selected inmates from the Ohio Penitentiary, will serve instead as the reformatory for northern Ohio," Porterfield said.

"The Ohio Penitentiary will serve southern Ohio and the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield will become the penitentiary for northrn Ohio."

These steps will make possible reduction of Ohio Penitentiary's population to about 2,500, and removal of the pen to a rural Columbus site is the next logical step, he asserted.

Porterfield said construction of the Lebanon building is scheduled to start early next year and to be completed by 1959.

The 200-man Lebanon Honor farm, which stands on the site of the proposed reformatory, will become an honor installation of the institution, according to plans.

The new institution will include 10 cellblocks, a segregation unit, a 40-bed hospital, food service facility and two acres of shops, schoolrooms, recreation facilities and chapels, Porterfield said.

It will be the only correctional institution in Ohio with cellblocks containing nothing but one-man cells.

Newsman's Case Ousted By Judge

The order also released bondsmen for Braden from liability on his $40,000 bail.

Judge Curtis' order was based on the July 27 mandate of the Court of Appeals, which reversed Braden's Jan. 17, 1955, conviction.

The charges grew out of an explosion at the home of a Negro electrical contractor, Andrew Wade IV. Braden had purchased a house for Wade in an all-white area.

Ohio Polio Total Continues Low

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state health department reports 34 new cases of polio in Ohio for the week ended Aug. 11. This was less than one-third the number of cases reported for the same week last year.

The department said 165 cases have been reported to date, whereas 447 cases were reported by this time in 1955.

and writes a full opinion which contains this sentence:

". . .There is nothing in the booklet ("Red Channels") to indicate that a performer who assists and advances the Communist cause unknowingly, and without recognizing that he is doing so, merits any better industry treatment than the active card-carrying Communist. . ."

Surely Judge Fuld knows that there are no card-carrying Communists in the United States and that there have been none for many years. Congressional committees and other governmental agencies have encountered the absence of the membership card for so many years that it is impossible to believe that an intelligent judge in a high court would still use the obsolescent phrase "card-carrying Communist."

What has been established by this decision is what if a person chooses a way of life which involves him in public comment, he must expect public comment and it is not libelous if the comment is truthful and not malicious.

Ashville Club Plans Labor Day Outing

A Labor Day celebration has been planned for the afternoon of Sept. 3 by the Ashville Community Club at the local park there.

Efforts are being made to schedule a softball game between two good teams for the afternoon's entertainment, in addition to children's rides and concessions.

In the evening, there will be games plus a public round and square dance.

Here Is Platform Adopted This Year By Democrats

CIVIL RIGHTS—Sidestepped endorsement of the controversial Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools, but pledged the party to advance individual rights and liberties of all Americans. It declared the party recognized decisions of the court to be a part of the law of the land, but declined to pedge itself, in so many words, to carry out those decisions.

FOREIGN POLICY — Charged that American ties with friendly nations have been weakened by Eisenhower administraion policies of what it called "bluster and bluff" without "dynamic action." It claimed also that these policies are increasing the risk of war in the Middle East.

It called for supplying Israel with defensive weapons to offset what it called an arms imbalance in the Middle East caused by Communist munitions supplied to Egypt. And it declared support for the principle of free access to the Suez Canal under suitable international control of the waterway.

DOMESTIC POLICY — Charged that the Eisenhower administration is stunting economic progress and failing to provide prosperity for farmers, small business men, low income workers, old people on small pensions and inadequate savings, and young persons seeking an education. It asserted also that the administration is using public revenue to "benefit the few." It promised to 'release the springs of abundance" to help all.

AGRICULTURE — Condemned Republican "failure" to halt decline in farm income, and promised Democratic program to restore "full 100 per cent parity" which it said agriculture received under Democratic administrations.

This program would replace Republican flexible price supports with 90 per cent price props on basic crops. It also would use government payments, purchase of surpluses, production controls and other measures to achieve the goal. And it would develop support measures for hogs, cattle, poultry and other perishable commodities not now under price guarantees.

Surpluses would be channeled to low - income groups at home through food stamp plan and to needy abroad through relief agencies.

LABOR—Pledged repeal of what it denounced as "the vicious anti-union "Taft - Hartley Labor-Management Act, and enactment of new legislation based on principles of labor laws enacted under President Franklin D. Roosevelt. It called for an increese of the minimum wage rate from the present $1 an hour to $1.25, and equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex.

FINANCIAL AND TAX POLICY —Favored an increase of $200 in the present $600-a-year personal income tax exemption. This would save low income taxpayers about $40 a year in taxes. It criticized Eisenhower administration increases in interest payments on government borrowings, contending this policy benefits the few at expense of taxpayers in general. It promised to reduce the rates.

GENERAL WELFARE — Pledged the party to expand and improve Social Security and other social welfare programs which it claimed the Democrats fathered. It charged that the GOP has opposed proposals to strengthen these programs. Besides greater aid for medical education and research, the plank promised expanded public housing programs, and financial aid to schools.

NATURAL RESOURCES—Claimed GOP administration has not safeguarded natural resources, and pledged doubling of government efforts to develop and conserve hydroelectric power projects, forests, grazing land, mineral resources, and recreational, wildlife and fishery resources.

ATOMIC ENERGY—Claimed U. S. is lagging in nuclear energy field because of alleged failure of Republicans to use power of the government to speed development.

FREE ENTERPRISE—Charged that the present administration has allowed big business to dominate the economy to the detriment of small enterprise. It pledged aid to the latter in form of more credit, tax relief and more government contracts.

'GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS —Promised extension of the civil service merit system, increased efficiency in the postal service—which the platform said the Republicans had crippled — and greater dissemination of information of government operations.

On other matters, it pledged renewed interest in veterans affairs; expressed favor for immediate home rule and ultimate national representation for the District of Columbia; and urged action to improve congressional procedures so that "majority rule" might prevail.

Police Interrupt Wedding Plans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wedding of Pvt. Jerry Dewan, a soldier on leave from Fort Carson, Colo., and Mrs. Mary Farkas, Van Nuys, Calif., divorcee, will have to wait a while.

Authorities said Dewan told them they attended a drinking party Sunday and decided on the holdups to finance a wedding in Las Vegas, Nev. In their car police found a wedding gown, complete with veil.

$800,000 Theft Costs 10 Years

CHICAGO (AP) — Orville Hodge, ousted Illinois state auditor, was sentenced Wednesday to 10 years in a federal prison for misapplying more than $800,000 in federally insured bank funds.

Judge John P. Barnes of U. S. District Court passed sentence a few minutes after Hodge, mopping tears from his eyes, heard his lawyer enter a plea of guilty.

The plea embraced 51 counts of the 54 originally contained in the federal indictment. Hodge also has been indicted by the State of Illinois. The government dropped three of the counts.

Speaker Booked

BOWLING GREEN (AP)—Dr. Paul Weaver, president of Lake Erie College, Painesville, will be the summer commencement speaker at Bowling Green State University Friday, Aug. 24.

3 Kidnap-Thugs Granted Paroles

COLUMBUS (AP)—Three men who kidnaped and robbed a Dayton tavern manager in 1946, have received paroles from the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission.

They entered Ohio Penitentiary Aug. 29, 1946, to serve 10-25 year sentences for the armed robbery of John Crupe Jr.

Crupe was returning to the Silas Tavern in Marine City, a Dayton suburb, with $10,000 which was to be used to cash payroll checks at the tavern when kidnaped.

County To Receive Money From State

Pickaway County is due to receive $35,883.77 from the state as part of the year's biggest single distribution of funds for local government purposes.

The money, collected from taxes on intangibles, will go into the county's local government fund to be divided among Circleville, village and county treasuries, according to the allocation made by the budget commission.

In addition, the county will get $3,597.26 for sales tax and $3,497.52 in reimbursement for tax abatement certificates.

Lowly Giants Making Effort To Look Alive

Polo Grounds Boys, Knock Big Brooklyn Out Of Second Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Giants aren't dead.

They're in last place, all right. But for the moment at least they've shaken off that celler pallor—reviving the somewhat tarnished world championship combination of Johnny Antonelli and Willie Mays to rock the pennant-pressing Brooklyn Dodgers out of second place in the tingling National League race.

The Brooks, who usually swollow southpaws whole like hors d'ouevres, were standing on their heads when lefty Antonelli got through with them Wednesday night. He struck out 11 while giving just two hits to beat the Brooks and big Don Newcombe 1-0 on Mays' 21st home run.

It was the second Giant upset of the Dodgers in two nights and skidded Brooklyn two percentage points behind Cincinnati. The Redlegs took two from the Chicago Cubs, 4-3 in 15 innings and 7-3 in a six-inning nightcap (called because of darkness in lightless Wrigley Field).

Milwaukee upped its lead a bit, going 2½ games up with a 4-1 decesion over St. Louis.

Pittsburgh showed down the Philadelphia Phillies 5-1.

In the American League, Dick Donovan threw a two-hitter as the Chicago White Sox walloped Kansas City 10-0. The first-place New York Yankees moved into a 10-game bulge again by defeating Boston 6-4 while Detroit knocked off second-place Cleveland 1-0. Baltimore beat Washington 3-2 in 12 innings.

Antonelli, the one time Braves' bonus beauty who was 22-7 as the Giants won the 1954 world championship, gave up only a two-out single to Duke Snider in the fourth and an eighth-inning double by Charlie Neal. He retired 15 in a row, eight on strikeouts, after Snider's hit while gaining his 11th victory against 12 defeats.

Mays, whose home run beat the Dodgers 3-1 the night before, unloaded his big one in the fourth off Newcombe, who had won nine straight. Newk gave three hits before being lifted for a pinchhitter in the eighth—ending his string of complete games at six.

Warren Spahn's five-hitter collared his 196th major league victory and 13th of the season as the Braves wrapped it up with two in the fourth on one hit and three Cardinal errors. Ray Katt homered for the Cards. Tom Poholsky lost it for a 7-9 record.

The Redlegs rode in on Frank Robinson's bases-loaded single in the opener after Ed Bailey and Pete Whisenant had swapped two-run homers. It was Bailey's 21st. Johnny Klippstein won in relief.

Art Fowler won the shortened nightcap, sailing in on Wally Post's 23rd homer, a grand-slammer, and Burgess' eighth. Both came in the third.

The Pirates scored four in the eighth, starting with Frank Thomas' sacrifice fly that tied it 1-all. Ron Kline, who tossed a five-hitter, and Bill Virdon had RBI singles in the big frame against Jack Meyer.

Three in the seventh broke a 3-all tie for the Yanks, who had taken a 3-1 lead on Yogi Berra's 21st homer in the sixth. Hank Bauer's single scored the tie-breaker. Tom Byrne won it in relief of Whitey Ford, who left after four with an ailing shoulder. Tom Brewer, who never has beaten the Yankees, lost his fifth against 16 successes. Jim Piersall's home run was the only earned run the Bostons scored. Four errors provided the other three.

Harvey Kuenn doubled in the eighth to beat the Indians and Bob Lemon. Frank Lary scattered six singles for the Tigers.

Donovan gave singles to lower Wally Burnette and Al Pilarcik while beating the A's. Minnie Minoso, who had four RBIs, Sherm Lolar and Sam Esposito homered for the White Sox.

Everybody, Including Fans, Insured For All-Star Game

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Sponsors of the 11th annual Ohio High School North-South football game scheduled here Friday have made sure that no player, coach or spectator will suffer financial loss due to injuries.

In addition a $1,000 life insurance policy was taken out on each boy, along with a $100,000 personal liability policy on Jim Robinson, of Canton Lehman, and Bup Rearick of Canton McKinley, co-directors of the annual gridiron classic.

Another policy for $500,000 covers injuries to any spectator, the night of the game. Robinson said the various policies were taken out to protect the sponsors as well as the players and spectators.

Meanwhile the players wound up their workouts today. The rival head coaches are Ralph Webster of Columbus East, boss of the Rebels, and Wade Watts of Canton McKinley's 1955 state champions. Both declared their charges were ready for the contest.

Watts, the 1955 coach of the year, said the only major injury bothering his squad was a twisted hip suffered by fullback John Dresser of Toledo DeVilbiss, the leading scorer in the state last fall. The injury knocked him out of the starting fullback spot, and Bob Young of Van Wert moved in.

The South, loser of the last three All-Star games, was installed today as a one-touchdown favorite. The difference was expected to rest with the passing of Ron Vitatoe, quarterback from Hamilton, and the running of Morris Morgan, of Dayton Roosevelt.

George Izo of Barberton, who will quarterback the North, was one of the state's finest throwers last year, but Watts said his running offense had not jelled as well as expected.

Both teams were expected to be strong defensively. Of the previous 10 games, the North has won five, lost four and tied one, and has outscored the South 176 to 121.

Only a dozen of the 50 boys on the two squads have not made up their minds where to enroll in college this fall. Of the other 38, Ohio State gets 13.

Northern players selecting the two-time Big Ten champion Buckeye school included ends Dick Gelesky of Canton Lehman and Jim Houston of Massillon, and back Bill Wentz of Canton Lehman.

From the Southern squad Ohio State will pick up end Jim Williams of Hamilton, guard Gordon Sebring of Zanesville, center Don Weik of Hamilton, and quarterbacks Jerry Fields of Coal Grove and Vitatoe of Hamilton.

Dave Canary, Massillon's All-Ohio end, chose Cincinnati. He is going to the Bearcat school on a music scholarship.

Postponed Game Scheduled Tonight

A Little League game between Jaycees and GE, to decide the winner of the second round, originally scheduled for Wednesday night will be played tonight.

The title game postponement was due to the late finish of another game. According to park director Charles Waple, the Kid Baseball program operates under a 10 p. m. curfew and if it appears that a game will run beyond the curfew limit, the contest will not be played.

Scott Frost Favored In Illinois Trot

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Scott Frost, the season's No. 1 aged trotter, was favored today in a field of five at the Abe Lincoln Free-For-All Trot at the Illinois State Fair.

Egyptian Princess is favored among nine in the Castleton Farms Stake for 3-year-old trotting fillies.

The Anne Rutledge Free-For-All Pace has attracted six starters including Frisco Creed from the Hayes Fair Acres, Brightside Stables' Hundred Proof, Queen's Adios and Scotchlite.

Rodney, who ran against many Hambletonian rivals, won in a third heat race of 2:03.3 after taking an earlier first heat in 2:01. Altogether, the Futurity race attracted 10 Hambletonian entrants.

Adioscot, from Decatur, Ga., rallied to win the Review 3-year-old Pace. Driver Delvin Miller drove Adioscot to victories in the second and third heats.

Regional Little League Meet Opens

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Hamtramck,Mich., and Brainerd-Beverly of Chicago won the opening games of the Midwest Regional Little League Tournament here yesterday.

The two teams were to meet today, with the winner advancing to the Little League World Series next week at Williamsport, Pa.

Hamtramck, the defending regional champion, defeated Ashland, Ohio, 3-2, on a fifth-inning home run by Don Markowitz and four-hit pitching by Al Stubbs. Hamtramck also beat Ashland by one run a year ago.

Lake Fishing To Be Good Over Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Division of Wildlife reported today that weekend fishing conditions in the state are expected to be fair to good in lakes, but poor in streams.

The outlook by sections:

Central and Southern — Most streams roily, but Scioto and Kokosing rivers and Blacklick Creek fair to good. Best lake fishing found in Rocky Fork, Jackson, Knox and Buckeye lakes and parts of Delaware Reservoir.

Southwest—Streams roily and high, fishing poor. Grant, Kiser, Stonelick, Cowan and Indian Lakes fair to good.

Tiger Footballers Will Meet Friday

Grid Hopefuls To Get Physicals; First Practice Session Monday

With the opening game less than a month away, Circleville High School football coach Steve Brudzinski announced that the first organizational meeting will be held Friday at 7 p. m. in the high school gym on E. Mill St. All CHS grid hopefuls in grades 9-12 are urged to be present.

According to Coach Brudzinski, each prospective player will receive a physical examination at the meeting to determine whether or not his health will allow him to play football.

Following the examinations, Brudzinski and assistant coaches will meet with the players to discuss the coming practice sessions, slated to begin Monday.

Football shoes and socks will be issued during the meeting. Locks for safe-keeping of equipment will also be passed out to the boys.

* * *

"OUR FIRST formal practice will get underway at 9 a. m. Aug. 20," Brudzinski noted. "Practice games with Logan and Columbus Aquinas have been scheduled so far," he added.

Sept. 7 has been set aside for the annual preview and Band Mothers' Night. Not only will local fans get a look at what promises to be a good season but they will also thrill to the music of one of the finest high school bands in Central Ohio.

The season opener with Athens is set for Sept. 14 at the local gridiron. On the following Friday, the Tigers travel to Chillicothe to meet the Cavaliers for the first time in several seasons.

Six of CHS's nine games this year will be played before the home fans. In addition to the Chillicothe battle, away games will include Greenfield and Washington C. H.

Pre-season reports indicate that the Tigers will rely on a speedy backfiled plus good passers, in place of the line crushing style of play displayed by last year's team. Indications are that the CHS line will be lighter than the 1955 forward wall, but again speed will be counted upon to off-set the weight factor.

All Tiger games are scheduled to be played on Friday nights, with the exception of the Columbus Rosary contest. This game will be played here on Thursday night, Oct. 20, during the Pumpkin Show.

Redlegs Get 3 Homers In Cub Twin Bill

CHICAGO (AP)—Cincinnati's Redlegs slammed three homers in yesterday's double victory over the Chicago Cubs, and one of the homers toppled an old team mark.

Ed Bailey broke the all-time record for Redleg catchers with his 21st homer of the season in the second inning of the opener, bringing in a pair of runs.

Wally Post and catcher Smoky Burgess keynoted the Reds' five run uprising in the third inning of the second, Post belting his first grand slam homer of the season and Burgess following with his eighth homer this year.

The Reds had to go 15 innings to take the first game, 4-3, while the second game was abbreviated by darkness to six innings when the Reds held a 7-3 advantage.

Starter Hal Jeffcoat worked through 12 innings before yielding the mound to John Klippstein who collected the victory.

After scoring in the fifth inning, the Reds couldn't put another man across until rookie Frank Robinson singled with the bases loaded in the 15th and scored Ray Jablonski with what proved the winning run.

The Reds blew a 3-1 lead in the seventh when Pete Whisenant blasted a two-run homer to tie up the game.

Art Fowler gave up 10 hits in the second game, but with the Redlegs' heavy hitting behind him, stayed on to take his eighth win against 10 defeats.

Ashville Baseball Player Honored In State Tourney

Robert Glick of Ashville was named the most outstanding player in the Ohio State amateur baseball tournament held in St. Paris.

Glick was a standout with the Ashville Irwin Insurance baseball team for several seasons. The team disbanded following the 1955 season.

The Ashville baseballer played this season with the St. Paris Lakers. Going all the way to the finals of the tournament, the Lakers team finally lost to Beulah Park.

Rams Given Edge In Redskin Duel

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams have been installed as nine-point favorites to beat the Washington Redskins in Friday night's football game in Memorial Coliseum, but Joe Kuharich's squad is capable of repeating its 31-28 victory in the annual charity contest.

Kuharich will have the same sturdy defensive line that enabled the Redskins to close the National Football League season in 1955 with an 8-4 record, third best to Cleveland, with 9-2-1 and Los Angeles, with 8-3-1.

Pitcher Corrected

Jeff Lutz, not Skip, was the winning pitcher in Tuesday night's Mosquito League play-off game between Purina and Eshelmans at Ted Lewis Park. The pitcher's name was incorrectly reported to The Herald.

DON CARTER

ONE OF THE TOP BOWLERS in the country will put on an exhibition in Circleville on Sunday, Aug. 26. Don Carter and his wife, LaVerne, who hold the record for mixed doubles with a 1,376 total, will appear at the Circle D Recreation at 1:30 and 7:30 p. m. All proceeds will be turned over to the Circleville Lions Club. The 27-year old Carter once posted an 809 three-game series while on television. In gaining the doubles mark, Carter hit 693 and his wife rolled a 683. He won the 1952 All-Star Tournament with a 205 average in 100 games.

Moon, Olney Due To Meet For Golf Title

Ted Moon and Don Olney will meet sometime next month to play off for the 1956 Pickaway Country Club golf championship.

In semi-final play, Moon defeated Bob Brooks 6 and 5. Olney had to go 20 holes before besting defending champion Tom Eveland 1 up.

The Rev. Frank Csaszar will meet Dr. Rod Heine in the finals of the first flight bracket. The Rev. Mr. Csaszar beat John Eshelman 4 and 3, while Dr. Heine beat Dick Wuest 2 and 1.

Aaron Takes Aim At Batting Crown

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Hank Aaron, Milwaukee's 22-year-old right fielder, is making a determined bid for the National League bat crown.

"I've got as good a chance as anybody else," he said.

Aaron has batted under .300 only once in his professional career and currently leads the pack with a .340 average. He has 145 hits in 426 times at bat.

135 Golfers Enter Milwaukee Open

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A hefty field of about 135 golfers, including defending champion Dr. Cary Middlecoff, open fire today in the 72-hole $35,000 Milwaukee Open.

The field includes 55 players who qualified with 76s or under Tuesday and 80 exempt pros and amateurs who will get the "feel" of the Tripoli Golf Club par-70 layout today for the first time under competitive conditions.

Marlene Hagge Threatens Suggs

The field includes 10 of the 11 top finishers in the women pro's division of the world tourney. Miss Suggs won the All-American at Tam O'Shanter a week earlier.

Lemon Goes Against Tigers Wrong Time

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bob Lemon once said it isn't so much how you pitch, as when.

Last night was the wrong time. He threw a six hitter at the Detroit Tigers and lost 1-0.

Harvey Kuenn came through for the Tigers with a double in the eighth that scored Bill Tuttle from second base. Tuttle had singled and moved to second on an infield out. It was the only time in the game either team was able to put two hits together.

The second straight loss to Detroit dropped the Indians 10½ games behind the New York Yankees. Two weeks ago the Indians beat the Yanks three straight. Since then they've lost eight of 12, while the Yanks were winning eight out of 13.

In both losses to Detroit the Indians had good pitching and poor hitting. Tuesday night Early Wynn and Don Mossi retired 28 batters in a row while the Indian batters were powerless to drive in the winning run.

Last night they missed several chances again. Al Smith struck out on a hit-and-run that wound up as a double play.

Vic Wertz, the Tribe's best power hitter this year, was out with a stomach ache, and probably will be on the bench for several days. Al Rosen was back in the lineup after missing five games.

Don't miss the antics of Pat Brady with the Roy Rogers Show at the 1956 Ohio State Fair—Aug. 24-31.

Top Hatters Lose, Eliminated From Tournament Play

Circleville's Top Hat softballers lost an eight inning 1 to 0 game to River Oils of Chillicothe Wednesday night in district play at Greenfied.

The loss eliminated the Top Hatters from further tournament play in that it was their second loss. The locals received their first tournament defeat from the same Chillicothe team several days ago.

The winners scored the lone run of the game in the eighth inning on two Top Hat errors and two sacrifices.

The local nine threatened to score several times in the early innings of the game, but could not get a man across the plate.

Losing pitcher Harry Strawser smacked a long triple in the sixth. When he attempted to stretch the hit into a homerun, he was thrown out at the plate.

Baltimore Batsman Still Goes Hitless

Miranda, who is batting .218, hasn't had a hit since Aug. 4, when he went 1-4 against the White Sox.

Since then he's been at bat 32 times with nary a single. Last night against Washington it was the same old story: 0 for 4.

He's the only Oriole who has played in all 112 of the club's games. He has 81 hits in 371 at bats and has driven in 31 runs.

Millar Says USTA Chief's Action Is OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An official of the U.S. Trotting Assn. said today that USTA President Lawrence Sheppard has violated none of the organization's rules or regulations.

Don R. Millar, executive vice president of the USTA, made the statement in reply to a demand that the USTA rename every Harness horse called "Hanover" within 30 days. The demand was voiced Tuesday in Detroit by Harness Tracks of America (HTA), an association of 18 of the nation's leading parimutuel harness tracks.

HTA charged that the USTA allowed the name to be tied in with the advertising of men's shoes in "published exploitation of the entire harness industry."

HTA said a fee of $60,000 is paid each year by a shoe manufacturer to the Hanover Shoe headed by Sheppard.

In exchange, HTA charged, all horses sold by the farm are named Hanover regardless of their breeding. HTA termed this a "flagrant violation" of USTA rules.

Millar said the HTA charge will be referred to the USTA board of directors at its next meetng. He declared that the question has never come up before.

"In my opinion," Millar said, "Mr. Sheppard has not violated the USTA registration rule since Hanover is a geographical name and not a trade name."

Stevenson Now Assured Of Democrat Nomination

Lausche Given Formal Boost For Presidency

'Favorite Son' Speech Delivered By DiSalle At Demo Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — Michael V. DiSalle, who wants to succeed Frank J. Lausche as governor, told the Democratic convention today that Ohio's "favorite son" can and will be elected president if nominated.

"He would prove to be our greatest vote getting asset and lead the Democratic party to victory in the nation as he has led the Democratic party to victory in Ohio," DiSalle said.

The speech offered the five-term governor's name to the convention which votes tonight on the nomination Lausche said he was unlikely to win.

Frank J. Lausche

DiSalle traced Lausche's political career from judge and mayor of Cleveland to the Statehouse in Columbus, where Lausche is the only Democrat holding elective administrative office. No other Ohioan has held more than three terms as governor.

"Sons of Ohio are automatically in the forefront of consideration when political parties gather to select their standard bearers," said former President Truman's price controller.

* * *

"BECAUSE OF his experience with public office, his record as a vote-getter, his knowledge of people and their problems," DiSalle added, "we are proud to present this living symbol of democracy in action."

Adlai E. Stevenson made a personal bid today for presidential nomination support from Ohio.

He addressed a caucus of the state's 58-vote delegation, most of which is pledged to Lausche.

Lausche was not present at the meeting of delegates, whose leaders said sentiment ran strongly for Stevenson's re-nomination.

Stevenson praised both Lausche, candidate for U. S. senator in Ohio's November election, and DiSalle, the nominee for governor.

'I will get no more satisfaction out of the November election," Stevenson said, "than to have Mike elected to the Senate. I mean Lausche to the Senate and Mike to the governorship," he hastened to add.

Fifty-four of Ohio's 58 convention votes are pledged to Lausche. But at least two delegates said they would bolt to Stevenson on the first ballot. They predicted others would join them.

Four delegates have declared for Stevenson all the way.

Harry Just Refuses To Quit Fighting

CHICAGO (AP) — Undismayed by the fact that Adlai Stevenson already has more than enough pledged votes for the Democratic presidential nomination, former President Harry Truman, who is battling for Averell Harriman, said this afternoon:

"The old man never stops in the middle of a fight.

"They'll have to knock him out or beat him."

"Does this mean you have any real belief you might put this man (Harriman) over?" a reporter asked.

"Of course I have, or I wouldn't be in it," Truman replied.

Today's World News In Brief—

World Of Arabs Staging Protest

CAIRO (AP)—The Arab world protested the London conference on the Suez Canal today with work stoppages, parades and mass rallies supporting Egypt's nationalization of the waterway.

In Damascus, newspapers reported the flow of oil through the British-run Iraq Petroleum Co. pipelines stopped when Syrian wokers in pumping stations walked off their jobs.

Bazaars, shops and offices closed.

Only essential services were maintained in Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Egypt. However, no serious incidents were reported.

Jordan demonstrators, carrying flags and banners and shouting anti - Western slogans, marched through the streets of Amman. At noon there was five minutes of silence, with the demonstrators standing at rigid attention.

Downtown and suburban shops closed in Baghdad. As the Iraqi press denounced the London conference, a Foreign Office spokesman announced Egypt had accepted "in principle" Iraq's offer to mediate the Suez crisis.

Thousands of Syrians staged peaceful demonstrations and a five-minute silence was observed at noon "in mourning for freedom assassinated by the London conference," as a spokesman for the Syrian Arab Assn. put it.

Demonstrators waving pro - Egypt banners converged on Parliament Square in Beirut, Lebanon, to hold a mass rally denouncing the London conference.

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A Wrangell, Alaska, man has been arrested on a charge of tampering with a boat used by Charles Rudmann of Cleveland, Ohio, a Fish and Wildlife Service stream guard who has been missing 10 days.

Bert McCay was accused of unused by Rudmann. He was chargtying and setting adrift a skiff ed with interfering and impeding a federal officer in performing his official duty.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — A Hungarian Interior Ministry spokesman announced Associated Press Correspondent Endre Marton will be freed from prison today. He said Marton has been given full clemency.

The Budapest radio announced last Jan. 14 Marton had been sentenced to six years and his wife to three years on charges of spying for the U. S. Mrs. Marton was released last April. The Martons are Hungarian nationals.

HONG KONG (AP) —An American Roman Catholic bishop returned from five years of Red Chinese captivity today on his 59th birthday.

Smiling broadly, Bishop Henry Ambrose Pinger stepped briskly ashore from the British freighter that brought him from Communist Shanghai. The Lindsay, Neb., priest appeared in good health.

The bishop's release leaves 10 Americans imprisoned in China.

LONDON (AP) — The Egyptian Embassy announced today the number of southbound convoys through the Suez Canal is being reduced from two to one a day. The Egyptians blamed the curtailment on "a number of foreign pilots in Europe (who) have not returned to their posts at the end of their vacation."

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Babs, with winds of 110 miles an hour in its center, struck a glancing blow tonight at Japan's main southern island of Kyushu. No reports of casualties or damage there were immediately available.

One U. S. Navy airman was missing in the wake of the storm's fringe on Okinawa. Four others with him were rescued when their amphibious plane sank. The name of the pilot of the plane was withheld.

MOSCOW (AP)—Another vivid account of flaming Soviet youth at high levels has been unfolded in the Communist youth newspaper Komsomol Pravda.

Road Markings Being Repainted Throughout City

Crosswalk lane lines are being repainted throughout the city now.

School zone markings will be repainted before the opening of city schools on Aug. 31. Center lines will be redone when the city can obtain use of the state's marking machine, used for such purposes.

Motorists are reminded to observe the barricades put up where the lines are getting a fresh coat of paint. There are stiff penalties in store for those who do not observe this warning.

Section 4511.17 of the Ohio Revised Code states that anyone driving over a freshly painted line can be fined not more than $50 and costs for the first offense. A second such offense within one year can result in a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100, or imprisonment for 10 days—or both!

No Incidents Reported In Racial Fuss

Deputies were stationed near the home, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Lawson, to prevent any further threats or violence.

Telephone lines were cut and some rocks were hurled, terrifying Mrs. Lawson and her two children. Lawson, a Columbus postal clerk, was out of town when the incident occurred.

Officials said a preliminary probe indicated the violence was intended to force the Negro family to move from the area.

"Violence such as that might be expected in Russia, but not here. The Lawson home will be guarded if necessary to protect the family and the property," Curry said.

Deputies reported today that they turned over to the FBI an anonymous letter the Lawsons said they received two weeks ago. The letter warned the Lawsons to move from the all-white-area.

The FBI was expected to take up the matter with postal authorities, deputies said.

It Cost A Barn, But Rat Is Gone

So when he spotted the rat on a platform in the barn he fired at it with a .410-gauge shotgun, not noticing there was a box of dynamite on the same platform.

The explosion blew the roof and sides from the barn and hurled Friestad outside, knocking him unconscious. But Friestad said he was sure he got the rat.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy appeared doomed today to certain death in the cold reaches of the North Atlantic. Weathermen said they felt confident the hurricane would continue away from the mainland.

City And County Enrollments Will Be Higher

CHS Teacher Quits; 6 Jobs Still Open For Rural Schools

Both Circleville and Pickaway County school superintendents each expect enrollments to be increased by more than 130 pupils this year.

These are approximate figures, according to George Hartman, city superintendent of schools, and George McDowell, county schools superintendent. They are based on assumptions, they pointed out, but the increase will be close to that, they added.

However, the teacher picture does not appear to be as rosy. All of the vacancies in the city had been filled—as of yesterday. In the county, at least six positions remain open.

Herbert R. Powell, who had been hired to replace William Robinette to teach law-sales, consumer education and English 8 at Circleville High School, turned in his resignation today. He notified Hartman that he has been ordered to report for Army duty on Sept. 7.

* * *

POWELL, who had received a commission after completing Reserve Officer Training Corps courses at college, never had been called up to active duty. He is scheduled to report out in California.

Hartman said it might be difficult to replace Powell at this late date, with city schools scheduled to open in little more than two weeks.

McDowell said that although he was listing six vacancies in the county this figure could fluctuate rapidly.

Ike's Regime Is Labeled As U.S. 'Circus'

CHICAGO (AP)—For Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, the circus isn't dead; it's in Washington under the billing: Eisenhower administration.

Kerr used heavy ridicule in his speech to the Democratic National Convention last night when he lambasted the Republicans.

Of President Eisenhower's heart attack and operation, Kerr said: "I don't aim to discuss the health issue because neither I nor any other man can tell whether Eisenhower could survive another four years of office.

"But the millions of American farmers know they could not survive another four years of Eisenhower."

Under Eisenhower, Kerr said, the families of farmers and workers have had "a terrible rendezvous with deception." He said Republicans are conducting "a billion-dollar circus" which he said lines up like this:

Armco President Resigns Position

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—W. W. Sebald, who rose from wagon driver to head one of the largest U.S. steel companies, announced last night he is resigning as president of Armco Steel Corp.

The announcement came at a golden anniversary dinner for Sebald.

Truman Seen Doing Adlai A Big Favor

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry S. Truman may have done Adlai Stevenson a favor by trying to keep him from getting the Democratic presidential nomination.

It figures this way: Four years ago Truman stumped the land for Stevenson. Stevenson lost. There are those, and Stevenson may well be one of them, who hold the view that the Democratic ticket would have run better if Truman had kept quiet.

In the opinion of most Stevenson advisers, Truman for all his good intentions didn't do the 1952 nominee any good when he stamped his endorsement on Adlai.

The candidate then became in the eyes of many, and of Republican orators in particular, the Truman candidate. And so Stevenson remained in the view of many despite repeated efforts to declare independence.

This year, Stevenson has no such problem—thanks to Harry Truman's opposing him.

Stevenson now can go before the voters as his own man, or at least not as Truman's man, something Averell Harriman couldn't have done if Truman's fight to get Harriman nominated had been successful.

Another boost Truman may have given Stevenson: calling him a "moderate."

Election Boards Getting '56 Data

COLUMBUS (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today sent to the 88 county boards of elections a general outline for the forms of three types of November general election ballots.

Office, non-partisan, and questions and issues ballots were prescribed. Brown said the letters went out earlier than required by law so that absent voter ballots might be mailed to members of the armed forces in plenty of time.

Brown said he will not prescribe the form of presidential ballots until Aug. 28 after both the Republican and Democratic national conventions are concluded.

For Want Of Dime, $200 Lost To Thug

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — A thug stuck up a tavern here last night. As he was concentrating on the bartender, one of the patrons ducked down behind the bar and inched his way toward a pay telephone.

Unnoticed by the thug, the patron fished in his pocket for a coin to phone police. He only had a nickel. Pay phones require a dime.

Ohio OKing Nixon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ray C. Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman, arrived in San Francisco yesterday and predicted his state's 56-man delegation will vote solidly for Vice President Nixon as the second man on the ticket.

PUCO Assures City Opportunity To Protest Phone Firm Merger

Circleville's city council has been assured of being notified if and when the proposed merger between the strike-bound Ohio Consolidated Telephone Company and General Telephone Company comes before the state's Public Utilities Commission.

PUCO secretary Basil J. Boritzki made the promise in a letter to council president Ben Gordon. However, Boritzki noted that no such application has been received by the PUCO.

City council, at its last meeting, went on record as wanting to protest the proposed merger. Circleville, in taking this action, joined the city of Cambridge in effect blocking the merger of the two firms.

While another meeting of negotiators trying to settle the month-long strike of 600 employes against Ohio Consolidated was to be held again in the "neutral" city of Cincinnati, the striking Communications Workers of America Local 4373 here denied accusations made by the company.

* * *

THE FIRM, in an ad in The Herald, accused the union of forcing the strike. The union, in turn, has charged that the company has "twisted the facts".

Federal Mediator Edward Phillips of Columbus met separately with representatives of the Federal Communications Workers of America and management Tuesday, then adjourned sessions until today.

The strike has affected telephone service in parts of 24 counties in southern and eastern Ohio, with six exchanges in Jefferson County being closed.

Negotiations have progressed slowly, and at the last report the talks concerned only working conditions. The question of wages is yet to come up, it was understood.

The negotiaion sessions were transferred from Portsmouth so they could be held without interruption by other matters, Federal Mediator Phillips said.

A disturbance, one of several reported in recent weeks, occurred at St. Mary exchange early today, police said. A rock was thrown through a window at the home of the manager of the company and cables were cut, knocking out service to 13 subscribers, the police said.

New Indiana Turnpike Open To South Bend

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP)—Members of the Indiana Toll Road Commission and the Ohio Turnpike Commission opened the eastern half of the Northern Indiana Toll Road at one minute after midnight today.

Commission members were first onto the Ohio-to-South Bend section of the road as it was opened to the public, a full month ahead of the Sept. 15 contract date.

The opening means that motorists may now drive from New York City to South Bend without stops except at filling stations and state-line toll plazas.

It took a little emergency work to get the road in shape for use today. Lightning blew a two-foot hole in the pavement east of Howe earlier in the week, and workmen poured quick-drying cement in it yesterday.

Statutory speed limits of 65 miles per hour for automobiles, 55 for buses and 45 for trucks were in effect as the toll road opened.

The Toll Road Commission last night passed a resolution setting limits at 60 m.p.h. for buses and 50 m.p.h. for trucks, but avoided a clash with state police by making higher limits subject to approval by the attorney general. State police had said statutory limits would be enforced unless the attorney general should rule the commission has authority to raise them.

The road will be one of the most tightly patrolled in the country, with one state trooper for every 15 miles of superhighway.

Farmers Said Slow In Asking Refunds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only 400,000 of an estimated three million eligible farmers have applied for refunds on taxes paid on gasoline used on farms, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

This is the halfway point for filing refund claims for the tax paid during the first six months of 1956. The deadline for filing is Sept. 30.

A revenue spokesman said no figures were available on the amount of refunds paid the 400,000 who have filed. One source estimated the average might run around $10 each.

690 Votes Lined Up For Ballot Tonight

Adlai Needs Only 686½; Kefauver Leading List Of Prospects For Veep

CHICAGO (AP)—Delegates to the Democratic National Convention were hearing numerous nomination speeches this afternoon, but only one seemed to be important—that given for Adlai E. Stevenson.

The 1952 party standard-bearer again had the assignment all sewed up even before young Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts put up the Stevenson name.

Early this afternoon, an Associated Press tabulation showed that there were 690 votes pledged to the former governor of Illinois. He will need only 686 tonight to win the official nod. By balloting time, the Stevenson bandwagon should be bogged down with late boarders.

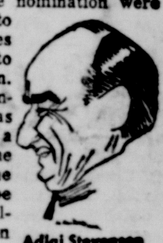
Six additional votes from North Carolina put him over the top. Kansas had just thrown in 16. Together, the two states gave Stevenson 690—3½ more than needed for the nomination.

But most of the other one-time hopefuls for the nomination were all of a mind to let their names be presented to the convention. In some instances, there was the thought of a buildup for the future. And the opportunity to be praised simultaneously on most of the country's radio and TV stations doesn't come along often.



Adlai Stevenson

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who made the chief challenge to Stevenson in the week's maneuvering, insisted he was still in serious contention. He fired a telegram to all chairmen of state delegations telling them:

Taylor Holds Slim Lead In Idaho Race

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Former Sen. Glen Taylor held the lead by an eyelash today in Idaho's Democratic senator primary, but was far from a sure victory in his second try for a political comeback.

Only nine of the state's 893 precincts are uncounted. They are small and isolated, and it is uncertain whether they could change Taylor's 36-vote lead over his closest opponent, Frank Church, a Boise political newcomer.

Fire Chief's Face Red As His Engine

He pulled a false alarm.

Bryan and fireman Gale McFarland yesterday were making the rounds to alarm boxes. In the downtown district, he opened a call box with a bottle opener but it failed to hold a mechanical spring and off went the alarm and the fire truck sped to the scene.

The fire chief had been pasting these decals on the boxes:

Fostoria Band Wins VFW Prize

DALLAS (AP) — Fostoria, Ohio, post captured first place in the senior band division of the drum and bugle corps contests here last night at the national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ohio teams finished second and third in the men's rifle drill team competition. The winner with 7.90 points was Milwaukee. Runnerup with 94.90 was East Liverpool and Alliance trailed close behind with 94.25 points.

DROODLES

"PLATE OF MACARONI WITH A COW LICK"

As this is the season of the year for Polls I decided to keep abreast of the times and take a Poll on this Droodle, sent in by Joan Washburn of Stowe, Vermont, and see if people could think of other titles for it. Here are the titles suggested: Dr. Schwine, "A Modern Sculpture of a Russian Wolf Hound made out of Cigarette Butts." Mrs. Goonsgarten, my landlady (I couldn't understand exactly what she called the Droodle because she was hollering pretty loud but it sounded something like "Bum four weeks behind with the rent"). Dr. Kitzenger, "A Garbage Scow with a Handle." Mrs. Schwine, "A thin Kit with a fat Kaboodle." Albert, my pet Marmoset, "Eeeeee skeee ak eek chomp chomp" (Translation — "Delicious").

Dulles Offers 4-Point Plan On Suez Canal

22-Nation Conference Now Underway; Egypt Experts On Sidelines

LONDON (AP) — The Western Big Three proposed today that the operation of the Suez Canal be made the responsibility of an international board, including Egypt linked to the United Nations.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, on behalf of the United States, France and Britain, presented a four-point plan for solving the international crisis blown up by Egyptian President Nasser's nationalization of the waterway.

Dulles told the 22-nation Suez conference the board proposed by the West would be established by treaty and would provide for operation of the canal in accordance with the 1888 Constantinople convention.

The plan would insure that the board could not be dominated by any single power or group of powers and would open the canal to all powers.

Dulles insisted the conference should seek to ascertain Egypt's views on any final position it might adopt.

* * *

A SOURCE CLOSE to the conference said Dulles put forward these other points:

1. The new arrangement must recognize Egypt's right to an equitable return, presumably from any profits from use of the canal.

2. Fair compensation should be paid to the stockholders of the nationalized Suez Canal Co.

3. Arbitration machinery should be agreed upon to settle any disputes that might arise out of these principles.

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov made a bid to broaden the conference to include 24 other nations, but agreed to waive procedural objections and expressed willingness to help in a peaceful solution to the dispute.

Geib's Recovery Being Delayed By Case Of Pneumonia

Frank (Junior) Geib of Fremont, formerly of Circleville, has developed pneumonia while recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident more than two weeks ago, according to word received here today.

Geib, son of former Circleville Herald editor Glen Geib, had reportedly improved considerably from his injuries until the pneumonia developed. He is still in Fremont Memorial Hospital, Room 180.

According to reports received here, Geib was driving to Fremont from Findlay when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car. The auto went out of control and struck a concrete abutment.

His injuries were listed as a broken arm, brain concussion and multiple lacerations.

County ASC Committee Ballots Due Back Monday

Candidates from each township in Pickaway County who have been nominated for the 1957 county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committee have now been listed.

The county ASC office reminds farmers that ballots must be mailed in so that it will be postmarked not later than midnight of next Monday, Aug. 20, or delivered to the county ASC office by closing time that same day.

Ballots will be counted by an election tabulation committee, consisting of Byron Bolender, John Schneider and Turney Glick. This group will also settle all questions as to eligibility to vote.

After the bllots have been tabulated, the person receiving the most votes will be declared chairman of the community committee and delegate to the county convention.

* * *

THE PERSON receiving the second highest number of votes will be declared the vice-chairman of the committee and alternate delegate to the county convention.

The person receiving the third highest number of votes will be third member; the fourth highest will be first alternate and the fifth highest will be second alternate.

The community and county ASC committees are responsible for carrying out the soil bank program, agricultural conservation program, price support programs, the acreage allotment and marketing quota programs, and the sugar programs formulated by Acts of Congress and any other programs assigned to the committee by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Congress.

Almost any farmer is eligible for election as a community committeeman if he has not, during the calendar year: (1) been a candidate for or held a Federal, state, or major county office filled by an election; (2) been an officer or an employee of a political party; and (3) been removed for cause from the ASC organization or from any public office or has not been convicted for larceny, embezzlement, or felony.

A farmer is eligible to vote if there is being carried out on his farm one or more of the current Agricultural Conservation Program practices; if he is eligible for a cooperator's loan or other price support; or if he is eligible for a payment under the Sugar Act program.

* * *

Magazine Sellers Told To Leave City After Complaints

City police today reported that five magazine subscription salesmen were ordered out of town for using "high pressure" tactics and abusive measures to gain entrance to local homes in efforts to make a sale.

According to police, at least four complaints were received from city residents concerning the salesmen.

Sgt. Turney Ross, investigating one of the complaints at a S. Scioto St. residence, said he caught one of the magazine seliers in the act of literally "forcing" his way into the house.

2 Local Residents Injured In Crash Near County Line

Two local residents were injured Wednesday in a traffic accident 17 miles southwest of Circleville on State Route 138 in Ross County, near the Pickaway-Ross County line.

Allen Eugene Prushing, 24, of 156½ E. Franklin St., the driver, and Stillman Morrison, 28, of 131 Parkview, both occupants in the same car, received multiple lacerations and bruises as a result of the two-car collision. The two men were taken to Berger Hospital.

The driver of the other car, Clarence R. Hyer, 31, of Frankfort was not injured in the crash, according to reports received by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. No other details were available as to how the crash took place.

City Judge Lamb Returns To Court Following Illness

Circleville Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb is scheduled to return to his duties today after being ill for approximately three weeks.

According to a court spokesman, the judge has not yet fully recovered but felt that he could conduct some sessions.

Police, Fire Calls

POLICE

No assaults, robberies, breakins or any other crimes were reported by police as of today.

FIRE

Gas Valve Mistake Seen Blast Cause

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A state official says someone turned on a gas valve late Sunday or sometime Monday, unwittingly dooming 15 persons who died when the Lariat Cafe blew up Monday evening at Monticello, Utah.

Chairman Otto A. Wiesley of Utah's State Industrial Commission said a workman who helped change the restaurant over to natural gas Sunday testified he shut off the main valve on top of a propane gas tank.

Another witness said he shut off the same valve when he found it open after the blast had leveled the cafe.

What nobody apparently knew, Wiesley said, was that the line from the propane tank branched and served a nearby apartment house as well as the cafe.

"Someone from the apartment house may—I'm not saying they did, but they may—have gone over and opened the valve," Wiesley said.

He said leaking as apparently filled the cellar of the restaurant and the open flame in an oven touched it off.

State Maintenance Superintendent Job Goes To H. W. Siniff

Henry W. Siniff, of 430 E. Union St., has been appointed Pickaway County maintenance superintendent for the State Highway Department.

The appointment, which becomes effective on Sept. 1, was announced today by G. W. Alsdorf, division engineer of Division Six at Delaware.

Siniff, who has been with the Department of Highways for seven years, succeeds Joe Rooney, who resigned. Rooney is now in the construction department of Division Six as construction superintendent on the Circleville by-pass.

Admiral, 61, Dies

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Vice Admiral Lynde D. McCormick, 61, president of the Naval War College since 1954, died today at Naval Hospital of a heart attack.

Benjamin Franklin invented bifocal glasses to save himself the trouble of changing his spectacles when looking from near objects to far ones.

A Lockbourne Air Force airman, identified as George W. Gabele, 19, of Rochester, Pa., was killed late Wednesday when his car struck a utility pole west of the base.

The accident took place on Route 665, a mile and a half east of Shadesville, according to the State Patrol. This would place the scene of the crash approximately 2½ miles west of the main entrance to the huge base.

In the absence of any word from Stevenson, the race appeared to be narrowing into a three-way contest between Senator Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore of Tennessee and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Estes Kefauver

None of these three took any public part in a carefully staged drama in which the party's conflicting Northern and Southern delegations met at the civil rights crossroads and decided to march into the general election campaign under one banner.

Urging that action was former President Truman, a Harriman backer who has contended Stevenson isn't a fighting candidate.

He put the question of adoption of the Northerners' minority report. There was a roar of "noes" followed by shouts of "aye."

"In the opinion of the chair—," Rayburn began. There was a chorus of "no, no, no."

"Now, just a moment," Rayburn said sternly. "I have taken the 'ayes' and 'noes' many times and I think I can tell who has the most.

"In the opinion of the chair, the "noes" have it and the minority report is rejected." Then he gaveled through the report of the McCormack committee.

James Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, said the decision had been made as between possible candidates. From another source it was reported, however, that Finnegan was arguing against selection of a Roman Catholic. Finnegan, a Roman Catholic himself, was represented as believing the religious issue ought not to be raised.

That would eliminate Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York City.

Roger Tubby, Stevenson's press secretary, said no word will be forthcoming from Stevenson about his choice until after he is formally nominated.

But Tubby listed half a dozen as under consideration. They included Kefauver, Humphrey, Kennedy, Gore, Wagner and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Stevenson has indicated he is toying with the idea of letting the convention pick his running mate from a selected list of men he regards as acceptable. The thought would be that with the top nomination apparently sewed up before balloting began, the delegates might like to see a real contest for second place.

At the moment, Kefauver appeared likely to have the strongest backing in any such contest.

2 Persons Injured Slightly In Separate Traffic Accidents

One person was reported injured in each of two accidents in Pickaway County Wednesday. Both were multiple car crashes.

In a two-car collision at Ashville-Fairfield and Circleville-Winchester Roads, Mary Kising, 18, of Hillsboro Route 1, received a laceration on the forehead. The injured girl was a passenger in the car driven by Ellen May Hollbrook, 29, of Ashville Route 1.

According to a report from the sheriff's office, the second car involved in the accident was driven by Russell Schafer of Alliance. He was not injured.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover said that the intersection where the accident happened is not marked by stop signs. He added that both motorists claimed they had slowed down, then proceeded on after not seeing stop signs.

* * *

BOTH CARS were heavily damaged in the accident according to Hoover. No arrests were made.

The second accident involved three cars in a mass collision one mile south of Circleville on Route 23. Scene of the mishap is near a construction area.

A car driven by Willard Estep, 41, of Waverly reportedly had stopped temporarily due to construction men working on the highway. The next car behind Estep apparently slowed down.

But a third car, driven by John M. Wolfe, 27, of Wellston, allegedly did not notice that the car in front of him was stopping. Wolfe's car rammed into the back of the vehicle in front of him, pushing the second car into the rear of Estep's halted auto.

Lecil O. Wesley, 54, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., driver of the second car, received a back injury. He was referred to Berger Hospital for treatment.

According to Deputy Hoover, all three cars were only slightly damaged.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

HARRY WICKENSIMER

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. in Peace Lutheran Church at Gahanna for Harry Wickensimer, a former Pickaway County resident. Mr. Wickensimer, 62, of Gahanna, died Tuesday night.

He was a son of John and Katherine Wickensimer. His wife, the former Marie Lowery, heads the list of survivors, which includes:

One son—Maurice Wickensimer of Indianapolis, Ind.; one daughter—Mrs. James Lamp of Pataskala; a granddaughter—Victoria Lamp; three brothers — George Wickensimer of Clarksburg, Louis Wickensimer of Hemet, Calif., and James Wickensimer of Circleville; also numerous nephews and nieces.

Burial will be in the Mifflin Township Cemetery at the direction of the Margarum Funeral Home of Gahanna.

Let's All Go Shopping!

★ ★

By MRS. LEORA SAYRE
Home Economics Agent
Extension Service

On a recent print shopping trip, we were not certain whether we meant vegetable or fruit when tomatoes were listed.

Now to continue food family confusion, let's all go shopping for peaches, which certain specialists say belong to the prune family. Others classify them them the almond, the nectarine and the apricot. (The slang definition of a peach is "a handsome young girl".)

Wherever it originated or whatever you or I think it is, the peach is now thoroughly Americanized and runs close to the apple among fruits of commercial importance.

The fresh peach season is in full swing in Ohio. Peaches are at their luscious best during the last half of August and early September, according to marketing information specialists of Ohio State University.

* * *

REPORTS FROM producing areas indicate that the quality of the 1956 peach crop is excellent. So, the time for peaches and cream, peach shortcake, meringues, and peach pie is now.

A peach must look good to be good, marketing specialists tell us. A cream background color is the best indication that the peach is ripe.

Don't be fooled by the blush! It makes peaches very attractive but is not a sign of ripeness or sweetness. Bruised brown blotches and spots of sticky gum are danger signals.

Foodshoppers should look for peaches that are fairly firm, well developed in size and shape, and free from blemishes, shriveled or decayed spots and worm damage. Never pinch a peach to see if it is ripe.

Tree-ripened peaches are excellent in flavor, but are very difficult to ship because they bruise easily. To be sure of that tree-ripened flavor, foodshoppers who live near peach producing areas may want to select their fruit at the farm or roadside market. These fresh fruits are excellent in flavor and preferred over those which are picked less mature and shipped in from a distance.

* * *

PEACHES MAY BE classified according to their firmness as follows: hard—they will not ripen satisfactorily; firm-ripe — good choice, if buying in large quantity and to be used over a period of several days; ripe—excellent, if to be used immediately.

A pound of peaches, usually four medium-sized, served fresh, will usually make four servings. A bushel of peaches weighs about 48 pounds and will yield 18 to 24 quarts of canned fruit, or 32 to 48 pints of frozen fruit.

One medium raw peach contains 880 international units of vitamin A—a big step toward the daily requirement of 5,000.

Fully ripe peaches should be stored in the refrigerator in a single layer to prevent bruising.

So that the peach parade can continue the rest of the year, foodshoppers should take advantage of this abundant good quality supplies with canning and freezing objectives definitely in mind.

* * *

FOR PEACHES and cream, we suggest an accompaniment of "pie crust cookies", the recipe for which comes from the favorite file of Mrs. Ralph Dennis of Monroe Township. Her recipe is:

Sift 2¼ cups of flour and 1 cup of sugar together in a bowl; add ½ cup shortening and mix like pie crust; add 1 egg, ½ cup sour cream with ½ teaspoon of soda, ½ teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon of vanilla. Stir all together with fork, chill, and drop on cookie sheet and bake 350 degrees.

For the shortening in these cookies and other baked products, you will soon be able to secure a yellow lard. This lard is said to be smokeless, odorless, low fat absorbing, and palatable as a spread.

It will be sold in one and three-pound containers and will sell for approximately 20 percent less than vegetable oil shortenings of comparable weight. The product does not require refrigeration according to the American Institute of Food Distribution, Inc.

GOP Thankful For Ammo From Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are going to thank former President Truman for some unexpected campaign ammunition if Adlai Stevenson is renominated by the Democrats.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) summed up today the idea expressed by several recent White House callers and GOP legislators still in Washington when he said in an interview, "We should put Harry Truman on our (party) payroll."

Others have said the Republicans expect to make the fullest use in the campaign of Truman's implication that Stevenson lacked experience and might require a "costly and dangerous trial and error" period to break him in if elected.

Truman made the statement last Saturday — without naming Stevenson specifically — in calling Gov. Averell Harriman of New York the best qualified man for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Truman also said last Tuesday that Stevenson could not win if nominated, but he modified this a bit at a news conference Wednesday by saying Stevenson "cannot win the election himself without a lot of help." He added Stevenson could win with the help of "the old man from Missouri"—Truman himself.

Potter, who is leaving Friday for the GOP convention in San Francisco, commented:

"Certainly if the man who considers himself the sage of the Democratic party is apprehensive about the ability of Stevenson, I think the American people should be apprehensive."

Medical Care Biggest Item In Cost Rise

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)— Medical care has taken the biggest rise of any item on the cost of living index. It is one-fourth higher than six years ago.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics put medical care now at 132 per cent of the 1947-49 average, compared with 116.2 for the entire Consumer Price Index. also at a record high.

The cost rise hasn't deterred Americans from seeking more medical attenton than ever before and accepting newer and costlier treatments almost without question. But the high costs have sparked a rush for insurance protection that is most spectacular.

The Health Insurance Council, a group of eight insurance associations, reports today that benefit payments under voluntary health insurance programs are running one fifth higher this year than last. Total payments under these plans in 1955 for hospital, surgical and other medical expenses, plus loss of income benefits, topped three billion dollars.

The Council estimates a record 110 million Americans are now covered by hospital insurance — a gain of 6 per cent in a year and nine times as many as in 1941. Hospital charges paid for them last year came to more than 1½ billion dollars, with the insurance companies and the Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans splitting the bill fairly evenly.

Surgical expense protection is held by 94 million now — 17 times as many as in 1941.

This is only part of the story, however. Millions of employes have some loss of income protection through paid sick leave plans, including those administered by unions or employe mutual benefit associations. Workmen's compensation laws protect about 45 million against expense and income loss due to occupational accident or disease. The federal government gives four millon persons, mostly military, complete medical care and some 3½ million veterans can get complete care for service connected disabilities.

A-Engine Roars For 66 Full Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—A duplicate of the atomic engine which powers the submarine Nautilus has been run at full power for 66 days and nights without refueling.

The Atomic Energy Commission, announcing completion of the test run at its Idaho testing station, said the experiment was made "to prove the reliability and stamina of pressurized water reactors for ship propulsion."

"If the Nautilus itself had made a cruise for this length of time—1,600 hours — she could have steamed at top speed, submerged, around the world and many thousands of miles more," it said.

Ohio Gasoline Tax Take Jumps

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers says that Ohio collected $146,759,242 in gasoline tax n the fscal year ended June 30, 1956.

Bowers said this represented an increase of more than $11 million or 8.13 per cent over the 1955 fiscal year collection.

Refunds for 1956 totaled 17,832,880, more than $233,000 or 3.07 per cent over the amount refunded the previous year, Bowers said.

Liberalization On Packaged Liquor Asked

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Ohio State Federation of Labor, hoping to wind up its annual convention here Wednesday, has received a request that the federation support a proposal that state laws on sale of package liquor be liberalized.

The Ohio State Council of Hotel and Restaurant Employes' and Bartenders' Union asked for adoption of a resolution proposing that by-the-drink permit holders be allowed to sell package liquor from the time state liquor stores close until their own closing time.

The council said it was making the proposal in an effort to curb bootlegging of liquor after the state stores close.

Delegates also heard speeches by U. S. Sen. George H. Bender, Republican candidate for re-election; Nathan Bar-Yaacov, labor attache of the Israel Embassy, and Walter Mason, American Federation of Labor representative in Washington.

Mason, reporting on the work of the last Congress, was critical of failure to amend the Taft-Hartley law, but he commended the raising of the minimum wage rate from 75 cents to $1 and changes made in the social security law.

OIL AND MIDDLE EAST

AMONG DEVELOPMENTS in recent days in the Middle East was an announcement in Damascus that Syria and Egypt have prepared a draft plan for a federal union "similar in many ways to the federation of the United States of America."

This is significant because of the threat of even wider Arab solidarity in the face of threats by the British and French to use force to keep the Suez Canal in friendly hands. It spells trouble for the big powers; but also it may spell some difficulties for President Nasser of Egypt.

If the union comes off and the other Arab nations permit it, Egypt would have a powerful tool in its hand. For Nasser could then use direct influence on Syria to have that nation shut off the flow of oil through the pipelines from Iraq and Arabia which run inside its borders.

Another interesting point for speculation, though, involves the reaction of the other Arab nations to such a tieup and, ultimately, to the threat of such an oil shutoff. Iraq and Arabia both have large stakes in keeping the oil pipelines (and the Suez) open; if these were to be cut, then much revenue that flows into those countries would be cut off.

Such a cutoff would have serious consequences for Britain, but at least the British could get oil from the United States, although that would result in a shortage in this country. But it would almost scuttle the economy of Iraq which has to have the oil funds just to stay in business as a government.

The British know these fact and undoubtedly will consider the use of such indirect pressures on Egypt and Syria before going to the drastic extreme of starting a shooting "holy" war with all its violent consequences.

WHAT OF OLD ROADS?

AS THE NEW federal-state highway program begins to take shape, the various states are planning to provide their share of the cost. The state's part is called "matching" funds and will go for interstate, primary, secondary and urban road building and improvements.

Evidently the program is pitched mainly on building divided super-highways and four-laning or at least widening some of the traffic lanes now classified as major highways. Many motorists are beginning to wonder what is to become of the roads that are not on the interstate network and not major highways.

Of course the states will take full advantage of the new federal road program. They will meet the fund-matching requirements to build as many interstate roads, and to widen as many of the existing major highways, as can be projected and completed under the farflung plan.

But just as important is the repairing of any number of old, rough, thinly-based, curvy, narrow and almost worn-out roads with which many states have been plagued for too long. Maintenance on many of the roads, which were poorly built, has required much of the road money of the states for a generation.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

A very important decision was handed down in the New York State Court of Appeals in the case of Joe Julian vs. American Business Consultants, Inc., publishers of the book "Red Channels" which stirs such controversy as it was assumed by many whose names appeared in this book that they lost employment because of it. Joe Julian is a radio actor and is cited in that book in relation to organizations that are regarded by some as pro-Communist.

Julian sued for libel. The lower courts held that "Red Channels" had not libeled him and he appealed to this highest court in New York State. The defendants claimed that they merely engaged in fair comment. The court held, with one dissenting opinion to which I shall refer, that "The public always must be given the opportunity to make its own decision.

To this end, the right to speak and write freely in regard to public personalities has always been defended as long as the right is exercised openly and reasonably. In this way the public can judge those reporting, as well as those reported.

The clandestine work of bigotry and intolerance flourishes when comment is suppressed. Those who seek public acclaim and support, cannot expect immunity from criticism or insist that the public remain uninformed regarding their activities. The conduct of public figures is legitimate matter of investigation. . ."

Further the court held:

"Free speech is not the sole property of special classes of our people, such as radical or liberal dissenters, or opponents of censorship. Every person has the right of free speech, even the moderate, the conservative dissenter and the prude.

"The plaintiff had the rights of assembly, of petition, and the exercise of free speech in attending a Communist front meeting organized to set in motion measures designed to abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee, and to call for a second front in Europe in October, 1942, after our entry into World War II and while we were under intense attack by the Japanese, although the Government's domestic and foreign policies were otherwise.

"To the same extent, his fellow citizens have a right to show who organized the meetings, why in their opinion they organized the meetings, and whether the meetings were part of a plan, and what standing the organizers of the meetings have in the community and whether in their opinion it impaired his qualification for employment in an industry disseminating news and ideas."

The court particularly made the case that Communists and their friends sought special privileges:

". . .The sum of the plaintiff's argument is that comment is actionable if it is directed at any one who, though not a Communist, associates with Communist fronts. Associating with Communist fronts, in other words, coupled with comments thereon, creates a prima facie indefensible case of libel. Such a rule would establish a privileged class of citizen and would be wholly un-American.

"Safeguarding and protecting the individual liberty of freedom of speech for all is for the general good, though it may work a private injury. The injury in one's trade or occupation can be equally as severe to a conservative, moderate or prude when attention is called to their activities, as well as to the radical, liberal and opponent of censorship. . ."

This opinion negates what has come to be known as the Fuld Decision which Communist unless the person admits to bemakes it libel per se to identify one as a ing one and naturally Judge Fuld dissents

CHAPTER 22

THE NEXT afternoon Lacey took Johnny to the park. He was delighted to see his friends again, and at his first opportunity broke away to tell the sandbox crowd about his new dog.

Lacey walked slowly, ever more slowly, along the path, around the lilac bush—and sat down quietly beside the man slanted like a board against a bench.

"Chad," she said softly, stopped, and started again. "I wanted to see you, to talk to you about—about—"

"Chad . . .?"

"Yes, darling?"

The endearment almost threw her, but she recovered. "I read an article about Dr. Wilkins-Smith."

"So did fifty thousand other people. About a tenth of them will write me letters, or phone."

"What will you say to them?"

"Nothing, mostly," he said, smiling at her. Then the smile widened, and warmed. "But if you're troubled . . ."

"I am. I mean, I thought I knew about the clinic, but so many things that he brought out—"

He shrugged. "You don't think I should let Wilkins-Smith call the dance, do you?"

"No—not if he's wrong."

Chad tipped his head back, gazed up at the twiddling leaves for a minute. "Let's see. He suggested that forty-five minutes was a very short time in which to make a complete check-up."

"Was he right?"

"You can't test for cancer and T. B. in that short time," he went on, quietly.

"But, Chad . . ."

"It goes this way, dear," said the young doctor gently. "The clinic's purpose is screening. Screening for symptoms of sickness. We want to discover diseases in their early stages, so that people will not become ill—bedridden, that is—for years, or die prematurely. For the work we're doing forty-five minutes is plenty long enough to detect many symptoms of trouble."

"Your ideal," she said softly, "is to help as many people as possible—or rather to persuade them to help themselves."

"I get paid for the job I'm doing," said Chad bluntly.

He sighed. "Might have known. Well—people act upon me like a virus; literally, they make me sick! I run a temperature of nastiness, and spread an influenza of rudeness. In short, my darling, people are fools, consistently, and I am always telling them so."

"I know it!"

"No, because if you did, why would you be so anxious to help those same people?"

"Oh, that's science. The work I do for these clinics can be resolved to statistics and predictable results. I'm interested in that sort of mental exercise."

He turned on the bench to look earnestly into her face. "The one thing I don't like about the work I'm doing," he confessed "is the need to sell myself. Dr. Chadburn Mays must make speeches, talk to civic groups and medical societies. And it makes a big difference if I dress in a shirt and tie or show up in a coverall advertising paint. I not only have to sell the clinic, I have to sell me—especially when there's a character like this Wilkins-Smith involved. He's a personality rather than an idea, so I'll have to fight him on that basis. Overcome his personality with my own."

"What about Mother's party?" she asked abruptly. "Are you coming to that?"

"Must I?" he asked resignedly.

"You should," she said firmly. "You see—Mother's doing it for a purpose. It's to be a tea for the Women's Club . . ."

She went on to explain, briefly and clearly, that her mother was moving the battle into enemy territory by inviting the members to meet Dr. Mays.

"Will I meet this Wilkins-Smith?"

"No. Just those he has indoctrinated."

He sighed mightily. "Tell me what to do," he said gloomily.

So Lacey told him, and on the day of her mother's tea, Chad arrived, handsomely boyish in a well-cut suit of blue-gray sharkskin, a white shirt and fresh tie. His shoes were polished to a gleam.

He was so successful a lion that Mrs. Castleberry, the Club President, made fluttering attempts to keep him close to her, to guide his progress across the terrace.

He made a complete job of it, too, never appearing to be merely kind or condescending.

Lacey was pleased with him. When the party was about over, and nearly everyone had told him it was so nice to meet you, Dr. Mays, she came to him, with love shy in her eyes, and pride glowing in her heart. "You were wonderful, Chad. So sweet—especially to the tiresome ones. I loved you for it."

"Don't praise me," he said. "I did it because I wanted to. I was the same way in school. I found it much more interesting to fall in love with a cross-eyed girl than a pretty one."

The words struck her with the brassy clamor of a copper gong. She winced and drew back, her hands going up to her throat in an automatic gesture of warding off further hurt. Chad stood watching her, his eyes dark.

"Did you . . .?" she asked softly. "Did you try to hurt me then, Chad?"

"You shouldn't have been hurt. I was just telling the truth."

Lacey stood very still, slim, straight and clean. "Do you always tell that kind of—truth?" she asked, gently firm.

"Well, why not?" He watched her as alertly as a child would watch an unknown animal. "Better, isn't it, than telling a lie, better than pretending right now that I was being big-hearted or noble? Honesty is always better. The whole universe—" his arm swept up, outward and around to include the terrace, the shadowy trees, the world beyond "—it's much better if sham doesn't exist in anything."

Lacey turned and walked toward the house.

"Don't you agree, Lacey?" he called after her.

"No," she said over her shoulder, and almost indifferently.

Chad looked honestly puzzled. After a minute he went swiftly down the terraced lawn to the highway, swiftly along its shoulder. That time he'd tried to explain—and still he'd hurt her. Didn't she know that it was phoniness at which Chad tilted his lance? These days a man with a lance had a tough enough time wielding it, he shouldn't have to explain about it. Not to someone who loved him, he thought stubbornly.

If she did love him. He must ask Lacey about that, some time.

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

WITHOUT an adequate blood supply you'll die.

An adequate blood supply is essential to the various individual parts of your body. For without it they also will die. This usually means gangrene and a serious threat to your life.

Many Causes

Symptoms vary, of course.

In about half of the cases, there is sudden and extreme pain. If an extremity is affected, it usually will become pale and you will feel numbness as well as a tingling sensation.

Only a doctor is qualified to treat this serious situation. But there are certain things the patient's family should know.

To Aid Blood Flow

For one thing, the head of the bed should be raised about half a foot. Or the patient can be placed in a semi-sitting position. This places the affected limb lower than the heart and lets gravity aid the flow of blood.

The limb should be protected from infection, pressure and dehydration. It should be wrapped loosely in a layer of cotton wadding kept in place with a roller bandage. This will help keep it warm. But remember, the temperature around the limb should not exceed 92 degrees Fahrenheit.

Don't Apply Heat

Don't apply heat directly to the affected part unless ordered to do so by your doctor. And don't elevate the limb without orders.

Perhaps your doctor will advise use of a heating pad on the abdomen if he thinks reflex heat may be beneficial. Or perhaps he will suggest immersing the arms in hot water if the feet are affected. This, too, provides reflex heat without applying warmth directly to the affected part.

Smoking should be banned. Whiskey and brandy, however, might aid circulation.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. J.: Would taking vitamins daily take the place of sleep?

Answer: Although vitamins are helpful, it is advisable for you also to get enough sleep.

This Is 'S-Day' For Many

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—This is "S" Day. The "S" stands for sneeze for five million Americans.

It is the opening of the annual hay fever season, when man's best friend is no longer his dog but his pocket handkerchief or the nearest air conditioning machine.

For the next month the land will resound with the wheezing and sneezing of more than five million U. S. victims of this peculiar allergy, which seems to be as old and as mysterious of origin as man himself.

Beware the watery eyed sufferer for the next 31 days. Avoid the mischievous temptation to tell him that hay fever, like seasickness, is all in the mind, or that "it's no worse than an ordinary cold."

Hay fever is no joke to the mna who has it. Nor is it any joke to industry. The U. S. Public Health Service estimates hay fever costs 24,750,000 lost work days each summer.

Dr. Rudolph L. Mayer, discoverer of pyribenzime, an antihistamine used in its treatment, lists allergies (hay fever is a leading form) among the first three chronic diseases in America, exceeded in number of cases only by heart ailments and mental illness.

"Actually, the first hay fever symptoms were described by physicians in Greece five centuries before the time of Christ," said Dr. Mayer.

These ancient doctors prescribed remedies of arsenic and belladonna to ease the discomfort, and arsenic is still used in some patent medicines today in the form of Fowler's solution.

Hay fever is peculiarly prevalent in America, oddly enough, because of our prosperity. It is caused by airborne giant ragweed pollen. In Europe and Asia, where almost every scrap of land is carefully tilled, there is no place for ragweed to spread, and the incidence of hay fever is low. But here ragweed has bourgeoned on acres spared from the plow, and all attempts to stamp it out have failed.

Antihistamines, which at frst seemed to offer a satisfactory way of alleviating the discomforts of hay fever, turned out to have a drawback. They made some people sleepy, thus were potentially dangerous to truck drivers, salesmen and others who spend long hours on the highways.

Now a new drug called plimasin, a combination of antihistamines and ritalin, a stimulant against fatigue and mental depression, has been introduced. Dr. Jerome J. Sievers, chief of the allergy service at Los Angeles Children's Hospital, tested the drug and found it gave relief in many cases and had few side effects.

But all present forms of treatment are palliative only. No real cure has been found, and none is on the horizon.

There is one surefire prescription for beating hay fever, but it's hard to follow.

Actress Shocks Film Studio, Says She Couldn't Dance

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —In this rock 'n' roll age it's downright amazing to find a young movie star luscious enough to be a "Miss America" finalist, yet who never learned to dance.

But it's so.

Vera Miles, touted as one of the hottest screen properties in months, is a girl who never had been on a ballroom floor until this week.

And it took an important movie scene then to get her there. She is playing Betty Compton, the second wife of the late Jimmy Walker, in "Beau James."

Bob Hope plays Walker. In one of the key scenes, the dapper New York mayor takes Miss Compton dancing in the Central Park Casino while still married to his first wife. At the time, the incident amounted to political suicide for Walker, a favorite with New York's big Catholic voting bloc.

Vera said she dreaded the scene for weeks but finally broke the news to director Mel Shavelson, producer Jack Rose and Hope.

When she told them she couldn't dance, they chorused as one: "You're kidding!"

It was a first for Paramount studio. Not in the memory of the studio's oldest timer had such a problem arisen before. Dancing, like cheesecake, is taken for granted as a necessary stock-in-trade for all pretty girls in Hollywood. And Vera is definitely not the wallflower type.

Asked how such a pretty girl ever escaped dancing check-to-cheek with boyfriends all these years, she explained:

"I've just been too busy working all these years. When the kids in my high school class were out dancing, I had to work nights to keep in school."

Trial Scheduled

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Carson Hoy has set Nov. 1 for start of trial of Robert Lyons, 43, water meter reader charged with slaying a suburban housewife.

Adlai's Aunt Letty Campaigning, Too

This Is What District Vets Want To Know

Q—I am unemployed and need a job. Can you help me to find one?

A—Sorry, I can be of no help to you in this matter. I wish I could. I certainly would like to have a listing of jobs available in this office, and if I could get the different employers of the county to cooperate with me and bring to me openings for jobs they may have, I think I could fill them with pretty good men.

However, this is not being done at the present time, so I cannot help you to find a job. My only suggestion is to see the Ohio State Unemployment Office in the Memorial Hall on Tuesdays and Thursday, or go to the Unemployment Office in Columbus.

Q—Can I get a 100 percent G I loan?

A—This question has been asked of me many many times. A while back the answer was yes, you could get a 100 percent GI loan, provided you could find a lending agency that would permit it. Now, you cannot.

Even if you were to find a lending agency that was willing to grant a 100 percent G I loan, the VA would not permit it. You must pay at least 2 percent down.

Most lending agencies, however, demand a minimum of 10 percent down on all G I Loans.

Q—Five years ago, I filed a claim for service connection, which was allowed to zero percent. In other words, it does not pay any monetary allowance. My disability is now worse, and I feel that my claim should be reopened and reviewed. What should I do?

A—You should contact your family doctor, have him write a statement concerning your service connected disability, showing the condition of the disability at the present time. If this statement shows that the disability is worse than it was five years ago, the VA will call you in for an exam by their doctors, and if everything goes well, your rating will increase to 10 percent of more, which will pay a monetary allowance each month.

Q—I need to go to the VA hospital for treatment for my service connected disability. I have heard that if I go, I will have to spend several months there before my condition is helped any. I can't afford to be away from my job that long, as my family needs my weekly pay check. What shall I do?

A—Go to the hospital by all means, stay as long as they want you to stay to arrest your condition.

As for finances, your service connected compensation will increase to 100 percent after your 21st day in the hospital, which should just about take care of your financial difficulties. If it does not, further consideration can be given by the Pickaway County Veterans Relief Commission.

Q—I was discharged from the service eight months ago. Since my discharge, I have been treated for hypertension, or high blood pressure. This disability seems to be getting worse, and my doctor is concerned.

However, I was never treated for the disability while in the service. Is there any possibility of having the VA take this case over?

A—Yes, there is, very much so. Even though you were not treated for the disability while you were in the service, hypertension is one of the few disabilities which if diagnosed within the first year after your discharge is presumed to have originated while in the service.

I suggest that you have your doctor make out a statement concerning this disability at the current time. If the VA rates your disability at 10 percent or more, they will allow your claim, grant your service connection and allow you a compensation and outpatient treatment.

Teacher Retirement Ruling Is Given

COLUMBUS (AP)—Members of the Ohio Teachers Retirement System who retired after Aug. 31, 1955, are entitled to have interests on contributions prior to that date figures at four per cent and after the date at three per cent.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has made that ruling.

A similar formula was applied to members of the School Employes Retirement System who retired after June 30, 1955.

Business Volume Drops In County For July 28 Week

Business in Pickaway County for the week ending July 28 was way below that of a year ago, according to the latest statement on the sale of prepaid tax stamps.

For the week ending on that date this year, a total of $5,088.22 was recorded. This compares with $8,933.82 for the same week in 1955.

The decrease reflected a statewide trend, according to a regular weekly report issued by Roger W. Tracy, state treasurer.

Total collections since the start of the present fiscal year on July 1 are also behind those of 1955. From July 1 to July 28 this year, $21,980.86 has been collected. For the same period in 1955, $27,128.68 was reported.

Pilot Lands Plane Safely, Then Dies

He died a few hours later. Officials said he apparently had a heart attack while flying.

TO LEAN OR NOT TO LEAN, PISA TOWER CONTROVERSY

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
Central Press Association Correspondent

PISA, Italy—This ancient city's famous leaning tower is leaning more than ever, and controversy rages over what to do about the structure that is one of the earth's best-known landmarks and on virtually every list of nominations for "the seven wonders of the world."

The tower—actually the campanile or bell tower for the nearby cathedral also built of black and white marble—was begun in 1174 by Bonanno, a famous Italian architect and builder, and must have started leaning during its construction.

It was 15½ feet out of perpendicular when measured in 1829, and the leaning had increased exactly a foot by 1910. At that rate, the tower had considerable promise of the future, but today's crisis arises from the fact that the incline has increased to 17.15 feet and is progressing by 0.27 inches yearly.

• • •

THOSE TAKING a decided view about the tower fall into several distinct categories:

The Italian scientists and engineers, whose latest spokesman is Prof. Giovanni Boaga of the University of Rome, inclining to the view that the tower should be dismantled stone-by-stone and rebuilt in the right way, since they contend all measures to arrest the lean have failed.

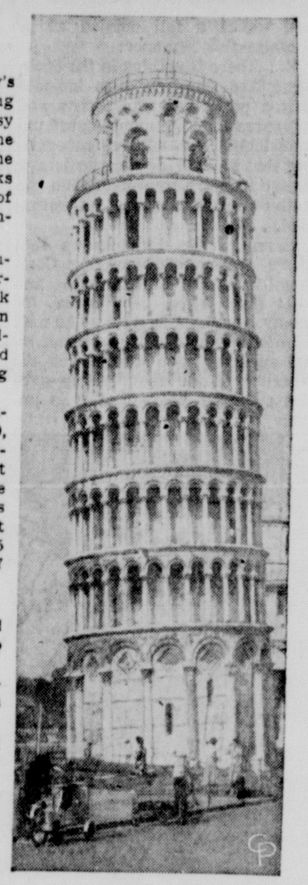
The American engineers (naturally somewhat resented here as interlopers), who maintain that the tower can be shored up as is and made to stand in status quo for many more centuries. Four measures have been proposed—producing a horizontal push against the tower on the low side, a horizontal pull away from the tower on the high side, increasing vertical support under the foundations on the low side, or removing a portion of the foundation support on the high side.

Curiously, it never has been determined for sure whether or not the original builders intended for the tower to lean. Generally it is assumed that the incline is an accident, arising from the fact that the massive structure rests on a foundation only 10 feet deep set in soggy soil.

• • •

APART from the fact that it leans, the 179-foot tower would be remarkable. It is perfectly round, with walls 13 feet thick at the base, and at the top about half as much. The eighth story, which contains the bells, is of much smaller diameter than the rest of the tower, and has only 12 columns.

A trip to the top is a dizzying experience, with the lean being much accentuated and the curvature and revolutions of the earth adding factors that unbalance even those with the best equilibriums.



The Leaning Tower of Pisa.

Pisa's most famous son, the famed scientist Galileo, made good use of the local resources when he climbed the tower to drop objects of various sizes, demonstrating that they fell at the same rate and establishing the scientific "law of falling bodies."

• • •

WHEN THE TOWER is suggested as "a wonder of the world," people here believe the term should include the entire cathedral group, including the great church, designed by Buschetta and Rinaldo, the baptistery, and the Campo Santo, lying to the north of the cathedral, which was made particularly sacred by bringing 53 shiploads of earth from Calvary.

Pisa has a proud history, including the fact it was one of the first towns to assert its independence of Byzantine rule, and in the early city wars it was allied with Genoa and came out well. Its medieval walls still stand.

While there are local citizens who regret that their city's global fame arises because some builder "goofed," particularly when so much good building was done in the vicinity, there is no denying that the Leaning Tower is a tremendous asset in attracting hordes of visitors annually.

Beaten Inmate, 18, Released On Bond

HAMILTON (AP)—Kenneth Lyttle, 18, critically injured last July 6 when beaten by fellow prisoners at Butler County jail, was released from Mercy Hospital yesterday into the custody of his parents.

He was released under $2,500 bond pending action on an indictment charging him with armed robbery. The three youths who beat and kicked him in his cell have been sentenced to terms at Ohio State Reformatory.

Burglary Tool Hearing Slated

COLUMBUS (AP) — A municipal court judge has set bonds of $20,000 each on four men charged with possession of burglary tools.

Judge John C. Duffy set the bonds on Vincent Innocenzi, 36, Anthony J. Velletto, 40, Thomas Rudelik, 32, all of Cleveland, and Dave F. Tiburzio, 32, of Hubbard.

The four are scheduled to appear in court today for a preliminary hearng.

The four, arrested last Thursday in Mt. Gilead had an array of keys and locksmith tools worth thousands of dollars, police said.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press

CHICAGO (AP) — It may have looked like a big fight. It wasn't. What happened on civil rights at the Democratic convention was handled so smoothly you'd think it was done with mirrors.

The Southern Democrats forced the rest of the party into a compromise on the civil rights plank of the platform. A small re' sistance was put up by a handful of Democrats from the North, East and West.

When this occurred the Southerners were so sure of themselves that they never uttered a word of protest. They let the leaders of the party—undoubtedly by prearrangement—handle the situation.

And they did. These leaders—including former President Truman—drowned out the protests by calling the compromise a sturdy document and a big advance over anything the party ever offered before.

The South didn't have to make Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi and former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia—worked diligently to get a watered-down civil rights plank.

Battle himself said: "We were conciliatory and we think it paid off."

The Southerners particularly did not want in the platform a statement saying that, if the Democrats won, they would back the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation.

The two leading candidates for the party's presidential nomination—Adlai Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York—had urged that the platform contain such a statement.

The Southerners won. The plank as agreed on by the convention reads:

"We reject all proposals for the use of force to interfere with the orderly determination of these matters by the court." Just what that means depends on who's reading it. It definitely does not pledge a Democratic administration in Washington to back up court orders.

Penitentiary Removal Said Needed Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. John D. Porterfield said today the next logical step in expansion of the state's penal system will be removal of the Ohio Penitentiary from downtown Columbus to a rural site.

Porterfield, director of the State Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, made the statement in connection with release of an architect's sketch of the proposed 11-million-dollar southern Ohio reformatory near Lebanon.

The director said the Lebanon institution is designed to house 1,500 of them.

"The new Marion Correctional Institution, which is currently taking selected inmates from the Ohio Penitentiary, will serve instead as the reformatory for northern Ohio," Porterfield said.

"The Ohio Penitentiary will serve southern Ohio and the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield will become the penitentiary for northrn Ohio."

These steps will make possible reduction of Ohio Penitentiary's population to about 2,500, and removal of the pen to a rural Columbus site is the next logical step, he asserted.

Porterfield said construction of the Lebanon building is scheduled to start early next year and to be completed by 1959.

The 200-man Lebanon Honor farm, which stands on the site of the proposed reformatory, will become an honor installation of the institution, according to plans.

The new institution will include 10 cellblocks, a segregation unit, a 40-bed hospital, food service facility and two acres of shops, schoolrooms, recreation facilities and chapels, Porterfield said.

Zirconium Plant To Be Erected

The plant is scheduled to be in operation late next year. The cost was not announced.

Ore Shipping Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—With the end of the steel strike, shipments of iron ore on the Great Lakes jumped to 1,824,586 tons in the week ended Monday, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. reports. The previous week's shipments totalled only 280,202.

Newsman's Case Ousted By Judge

The order also released bondsmen for Braden from liability on his $40,000 bail.

Judge Curtis' order was based on the July 27 mandate of the Court of Appeals, which reversed Braden's Jan. 17, 1955, conviction.

The charges grew out of an explosion at the home of a Negro electrical contractor, Andrew Wade IV. Braden had purchased a house for Wade in an all-white area.

Ohio Polio Total Continues Low

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state health department reports 34 new cases of polio in Ohio for the week ended Aug. 11. This was less than one-third the number of cases reported for the same week last year.

The department said 165 cases have been reported to date, whereas 447 cases were reported by this time in 1955.

and writes a full opinion which contains this sentence:

". . .There is nothing in the booklet ("Red Channels") to indicate that a performer who assists and advances the Communist cause unknowingly, and without recognizing that he is doing so, merits any better industry treatment than the active card-carrying Communist. . ."

Surely Judge Fuld knows that there are no card-carrying Communists in the United States and that there have been none for many years. Congressional committees and other governmental agencies have encountered the absence of the membership card for so many years that it is impossible to believe that an intelligent judge in a high court would still use the obsolescent phrase "card-carrying Communist."

What has been established by this decision is what if a person chooses a way of life which involves him in public comment, he must expect public comment and it is not libelous if the comment is truthful and not malicious.

Ashville Club Plans Labor Day Outing

A Labor Day celebration has been planned for the afternoon of Sept. 3 by the Ashville Community Club at the local park there.

Efforts are being made to schedule a softball game between two good teams for the afternoon's entertainment, in addition to children's rides and concessions.

In the evening, there will be games plus a public round and square dance.

Here Is Platform Adopted This Year By Democrats

CIVIL RIGHTS—Sidestepped endorsement of the controversial Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools, but pledged the party to advance individual rights and liberties of all Americans. It declared the party recognized decisions of the court to be a part of the law of the land, but declined to pedge itself, in so many words, to carry out those decisions.

FOREIGN POLICY — Charged that American ties with friendly nations have been weakened by Eisenhower administraion policies of what it called "bluster and bluff" without "dynamic action." It claimed also that these policies are increasing the risk of war in the Middle East.

It called for supplying Israel with defensive weapons to offset what it called an arms imbalance in the Middle East caused by Communist munitions supplied to Egypt. And it declared support for the principle of free access to the Suez Canal under suitable international control of the waterway.

DOMESTIC POLICY — Charged that the Eisenhower administration is stunting economic progress and failing to provide prosperity for farmers, small business men, low income workers, old people on small pensions and inadequate savings, and young persons seeking an education. It asserted also that the administration is using public revenue to "benefit the few." It promised to 'release the springs of abundance" to help all.

AGRICULTURE — Condemned Republican "failure" to halt decline in farm income, and promised Democratic program to restore "full 100 per cent parity" which it said agriculture received under Democratic administrations.

This program would replace Republican flexible price supports with 90 per cent price props on basic crops. It also would use government payments, purchase of surpluses, production controls and other measures to achieve the goal. And it would develop support measures for hogs, cattle, poultry and other perishable commodities not now under price guarantees.

Surpluses would be channeled to low - income groups at home through food stamp plan and to needy abroad through relief agencies.

LABOR—Pledged repeal of what it denounced as "the vicious anti-union "Taft - Hartley Labor-Management Act, and enactment of new legislation based on principles of labor laws enacted under President Franklin D. Roosevelt. It called for an increese of the minimum wage rate from the present $1 an hour to $1.25, and equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex.

FINANCIAL AND TAX POLICY —Favored an increase of $200 in the present $600-a-year personal income tax exemption. This would save low income taxpayers about $40 a year in taxes. It criticized Eisenhower administration increases in interest payments on government borrowings, contending this policy benefits the few at expense of taxpayers in general. It promised to reduce the rates.

GENERAL WELFARE — Pledged the party to expand and improve Social Security and other social welfare programs which it claimed the Democrats fathered. It charged that the GOP has opposed proposals to strengthen these programs. Besides greater aid for medical education and research, the plank promised expanded public housing programs, and financial aid to schools.

NATURAL RESOURCES—Claimed GOP administration has not safeguarded natural resources, and pledged doubling of government efforts to develop and conserve hydroelectric power projects, forests, grazing land, mineral resources, and recreational, wildlife and fishery resources.

ATOMIC ENERGY—Claimed U. S. is lagging in nuclear energy field because of alleged failure of Republicans to use power of the government to speed development.

FREE ENTERPRISE—Charged that the present administration has allowed big business to dominate the economy to the detriment of small enterprise. It pledged aid to the latter in form of more credit, tax relief and more government contracts.

GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS —Promised extension of the civil service merit system, increased efficiency in the postal service—which the platform said the Republicans had crippled — and greater dissemination of information of government operations.

On other matters, it pledged renewed interest in veterans affairs; expressed favor for immediate home rule and ultimate national representation for the District of Columbia; and urged action to improve congressional procedures so that "majority rule" might prevail.

$800,000 Theft Costs 10 Years

CHICAGO (AP) — Orville Hodge, ousted Illinois state auditor, was sentenced Wednesday to 10 years in a federal prison for misapplying more than $800,000 in federally insured bank funds.

Judge John P. Barnes of U. S. District Court passed sentence a few minutes after Hodge, mopping tears from his eyes, heard his lawyer enter a plea of guilty.

The plea embraced 51 counts of the 54 originally contained in the federal indictment. Hodge also has been indicted by the State of Illinois. The government dropped three of the counts.

3 Kidnap-Thugs Granted Paroles

COLUMBUS (AP)—Three men who kidnaped and robbed a Dayton tavern manager in 1946, have received paroles from the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission.

They entered Ohio Penitentiary Aug. 29, 1946, to serve 10-25 year sentences for the armed robbery of John Crupe Jr.

Crupe was returning to the Silas Tavern in Marine City, a Dayton suburb, with $10,000 which was to be used to cash payroll checks at the tavern when kidnaped.

County To Receive Money From State

Pickaway County is due to receive $35,883.77 from the state as part of the year's biggest single distribution of funds for local government purposes.

The money, collected from taxes on intangibles, will go into the county's local government fund to be divided among Circleville, village and county treasuries, according to the allocation made by the budget commission.

In addition, the county will get $3,597.26 for sales tax and $3,497.52 in reimbursement for tax abatement certificates.

Police Interrupt Wedding Plans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wedding of Pvt. Jerry Dewan, a soldier on leave from Fort Carson, Colo., and Mrs. Mary Farkas, Van Nuys, Calif., divorcee, will have to wait a while.

Authorities said Dewan told them they attended a drinking party Sunday and decided on the holdups to finance a wedding in Las Vegas, Nev. In their car police found a wedding gown, complete with veil.

Lowly Giants Making Effort To Look Alive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Giants aren't dead.

They're in last place, all right. But for the moment at least they've shaken off that celler pallor—reviving the somewhat tarnished world championship combination of Johnny Antonelli and Willie Mays to rock the pennant-pressing Brooklyn Dodgers out of second place in the tingling National League race.

The Brooks, who usually swollow southpaws whole like hors d'ouevres, were standing on their heads when lefty Antonelli got through with them Wednesday night. He struck out 11 while giving just two hits to beat the Brooks and big Don Newcombe 1-0 on Mays' 21st home run.

It was the second Giant upset of the Dodgers in two nights and skidded Brooklyn two percentage points behind Cincinnati. The Redlegs took two from the Chicago Cubs, 4-3 in 15 innings and 7-3 in a six-inning nightcap (called because of darkness in lightless Wrigley Field).

Milwaukee upped its lead a bit, going 2½ games up with a 4-1 decesion over St. Louis.

Pittsburgh showed down the Philadelphia Phillies 5-1.

In the American League, Dick Donovan threw a two-hitter as the Chicago White Sox walloped Kansas City 10-0. The first-place New York Yankees moved into a 10-game bulge again by defeating Boston 6-4 while Detroit knocked off second-place Cleveland 1-0. Baltimore beat Washington 3-2 in 12 innings.

Antonelli, the one time Braves' bonus beauty who was 22-7 as the Giants won the 1954 world championship, gave up only a two-out single to Duke Snider in the fourth and an eighth-inning double by Charlie Neal. He retired 15 in a row, eight on strikeouts, after Snider's hit while gaining his 11th victory against 12 defeats.

Mays, whose home run beat the Dodgers 3-1 the night before, unloaded his big one in the fourth off Newcombe, who had won nine straight. Newk gave three hits before being lifted for a pinchhitter in the eighth—ending his string of complete games at six.

Warren Spahn's five-hitter collared his 196th major league victory and 13th of the season as the Braves wrapped it up with two in the fourth on one hit and three Cardinal errors. Ray Katt homered for the Cards. Tom Poholsky lost it for a 7-9 record.

The Redlegs rode in on Frank Robinson's bases-loaded single in the opener after Ed Bailey and Pete Whisenant had swapped two-run homers. It was Bailey's 21st. Johnny Klippstein won in relief.

Art Fowler won the shortened nightcap, sailing in on Wally Post's 23rd homer, a grand-slammer, and Burgess' eighth. Both came in the third.

The Pirates scored four in the eighth, starting with Frank Thomas' sacrifice fly that tied it 1-all. Ron Kline, who tossed a five-hitter, and Bill Virdon had RBI singles in the big frame against Jack Meyer.

Three in the seventh broke a 3-all tie for the Yanks, who had taken a 3-1 lead on Yogi Berra's 21st homer in the sixth. Hank Bauer's single scored the tie-breaker. Tom Byrne won it in relief of Whitey Ford, who left after four with an ailing shoulder. Tom Brewer, who never has beaten the Yankees, lost his fifth against 16 successes. Jim Piersall's home run was the only earned run the Bostons scored. Four errors provided the other three.

Harvey Kuenn doubled in the eighth to beat the Indians and Bob Lemon. Frank Lary scattered six singles for the Tigers.

Donovan gave singles to lower Wally Burnette and Al Pilarcik while beating the A's. Minnie Minoso, who had four RBIs, Sherm Lolar and Sam Esposito homered for the White Sox.

Lake Fishing To Be Good Over Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Division of Wildlife reported today that weekend fishing conditions in the state are expected to be fair to good in lakes, but poor in streams.

The outlook by sections:

Central and Southern — Most streams roily, but Scioto and Kokosing rivers and Blacklick Creek fair to good. Best lake fishing found in Rocky Fork, Jackson, Knox and Buckeye lakes and parts of Delaware Reservoir.

Southwest—Streams roily and high, fishing poor. Grant, Kiser, Stonelick, Cowan and Indian Lakes fair to good.

Everybody, Including Fans, Insured For All-Star Game

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Sponsors of the 11th annual Ohio High School North-South football game scheduled here Friday have made sure that no player, coach or spectator will suffer financial loss due to injuries.

In addition a $1,000 life insurance policy was taken out on each boy, along with a $100,000 personal liability policy on Jim Robinson, of Canton Lehman, and Bup Rearick of Canton McKinley, co-directors of the annual gridiron classic.

Another policy for $500,000 covers injuries to any spectator, the night of the game. Robinson said the various policies were taken out to protect the sponsors as well as the players and spectators.

Meanwhile the players wound up their workouts today. The rival head coaches are Ralph Webster of Columbus East, boss of the Rebels, and Wade Watts of Canton McKinley's 1955 state champions. Both declared their charges were ready for the contest.

Watts, the 1955 coach of the year, said the only major injury bothering his squad was a twisted hip suffered by fullback John Dresser of Toledo DeVilbiss, the leading scorer in the state last fall. The injury knocked him out of the starting fullback spot, and Bob Young of Van Wert moved in.

The South, loser of the last three All-Star games, was installed today as a one-touchdown favorite. The difference was expected to rest with the passing of Ron Vitatoe, quarterback from Hamilton, and the running of Morris Morgan, of Dayton Roosevelt.

George Izo of Barberton, who will quarterback the North, was one of the state's finest throwers last year, but Watts said his running offense had not jelled as well as expected.

Both teams were expected to be strong defensively. Of the previous 10 games, the North has won five, lost four and tied one, and has outscored the South 176 to 121.

Only a dozen of the 50 boys on the two squads have not made up their minds where to enroll in college this fall. Of the other 38, Ohio State gets 13.

Northern players selecting the two-time Big Ten champion Buckeye school included ends Dick Gelesky of Canton Lehman and Jim Houston of Massillon, and back Bill Wentz of Canton Lehman.

From the Southern squad Ohio State will pick up end Jim Williams of Hamilton, guard Gordon Sebring of Zanesville, center Don Weik of Hamilton, and quarterbacks Jerry Fields of Coal Grove and Vitatoe of Hamilton.

Dave Canary, Massillon's All-Ohio end, chose Cincinnati. He is going to the Bearcat school on a music scholarship.

Postponed Game Scheduled Tonight

A Little League game between Jaycees and GE, to decide the winner of the second round, originally scheduled for Wednesday night will be played tonight.

The title game postponement was due to the late finish of another game. According to park director Charles Waple, the Kid Baseball program operates under a 10 p. m. curfew and if it appears that a game will run beyond the curfew limit, the contest will not be played.

Scott Frost Favored In Illinois Trot

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Scott Frost, the season's No. 1 aged trotter, was favored today in a field of five at the Abe Lincoln Free-For-All Trot at the Illinois State Fair.

The Anne Rutledge Free-For-All Pace has attracted six starters including Frisco Creed from the Hayes Fair Acres, Brightside Stables' Hundred Proof, Queen's Adios and Scotchlite.

Rodney, who ran against many Hambletonian rivals, won in a third heat race of 2:03.3 after taking an earlier first heat in 2:01. Altogether, the Futurity race attracted 10 Hambletonian entrants.

Adioscot, from Decatur, Ga., rallied to win the Review 3-year-old Pace. Driver Delvin Miller drove Adioscot to victories in the second and third heats.

Regional Little League Meet Opens

The two teams were to meet today, with the winner advancing to the Little League World Series next week at Williamsport, Pa.

Hamtramck, the defending regional champion, defeated Ashland, Ohio, 3-2, on a fifth-inning home run by Don Markowitz and four-hit pitching by Al Stubbs. Hamtramck also beat Ashland by one run a year ago.

Tiger Footballers Will Meet Friday

Grid Hopefuls To Get Physicals; First Practice Session Monday

With the opening game less than a month away, Circleville High School football coach Steve Brudzinski announced that the first organizational meeting will be held Friday at 7 p. m. in the high school gym on E. Mill St. All CHS grid hopefuls in grades 9-12 are urged to be present.

According to Coach Brudzinski, each prospective player will receive a physical examination at the meeting to determine whether or not his health will allow him to play football.

Following the examinations, Brudzinski and assistant coaches will meet with the players to discuss the coming practice sessions, slated to begin Monday.

Football shoes and socks will be issued during the meeting. Locks for safe-keeping of equipment will also be passed out to the boys.

* * *

"OUR FIRST formal practice will get underway at 9 a. m. Aug. 20," Brudzinski noted. "Practice games with Logan and Columbus Aquinas have been scheduled so far," he added.

Sept. 7 has been set aside for the annual preview and Band Mothers' Night. Not only will local fans get a look at what promises to be a good season but they will also thrill to the music of one of the finest high school bands in Central Ohio.

The season opener with Athens is set for Sept. 14 at the local gridiron. On the following Friday, the Tigers travel to Chillicothe to meet the Cavaliers for the first time in several seasons.

Six of CHS's nine games this year will be played before the home fans. In addition to the Chillicothe battle, away games will include Greenfield and Washington C. H.

Pre-season reports indicate that the Tigers will rely on a speedy backfiled plus good passers, in place of the line crushing style of play displayed by last year's team. Indications are that the CHS line will be lighter than the 1955 forward wall, but again speed will be counted upon to off-set the weight factor.

All Tiger games are scheduled to be played on Friday nights, with the exception of the Columbus Rosary contest. This game will be played here on Thursday night, Oct. 20, during the Pumpkin Show.

Redlegs Get 3 Homers In Cub Twin Bill

Ed Bailey broke the all-time record for Redleg catchers with his 21st homer of the season in the second inning of the opener, bringing in a pair of runs.

Wally Post and catcher Smoky Burgess keynoted the Reds' five run uprising in the third inning of the second, Post belting his first grand slam homer of the season and Burgess following with his eighth homer this year.

The Reds had to go 15 innings to take the first game, 4-3, while the second game was abbreviated by darkness to six innings when the Reds held a 7-3 advantage.

Starter Hal Jeffcoat worked through 12 innings before yielding the mound to John Klippstein who collected the victory.

After scoring in the fifth inning, the Reds couldn't put another man across until rookie Frank Robinson singled with the bases loaded in the 15th and scored Ray Jablonski with what proved the winning run.

The Reds blew a 3-1 lead in the seventh when Pete Whisenant blasted a two-run homer to tie up the game.

Art Fowler gave up 10 hits in the second game, but with the Redlegs' heavy hitting behind him, stayed on to take his eighth win against 10 defeats.

Ashville Baseball Player Honored In State Tourney

Robert Glick of Ashville was named the most outstanding player in the Ohio State amateur baseball tournament held in St. Paris.

Glick was a standout with the Ashville Irwin Insurance baseball team for several seasons. The team disbanded following the 1955 season.

The Ashville baseballer played this season with the St. Paris Lakers. Going all the way to the finals of the tournament, the Lakers team finally lost to Beulah Park.

Rams Given Edge In Redskin Duel

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams have been installed as nine-point favorites to beat the Washington Redskins in Friday night's football game in Memorial Coliseum, but Joe Kuharich's squad is capable of repeating its 31-28 victory in the annual charity contest.

Kuharich will have the same sturdy defensive line that enabled the Redskins to close the National Football League season in 1955 with an 8-4 record, third best to Cleveland, with 9-2-1 and Los Angeles, with 8-3-1.

Pitcher Corrected

Jeff Lutz, not Skip, was the winning pitcher in Tuesday night's Mosquito League play-off game between Purina and Eshelmans at Ted Lewis Park. The pitcher's name was incorrectly reported to The Herald.

DON CARTER

ONE OF THE TOP BOWLERS in the country will put on an exhibition in Circleville on Sunday, Aug. 26. Don Carter and his wife, LaVerne, who hold the record for mixed doubles with a 1,376 total, will appear at the Circle D Recreation at 1:30 and 7:30 p. m. All proceeds will be turned over to the Circleville Lions Club. The 27-year old Carter once posted an 809 three-game series while on television. In gaining the doubles mark, Carter hit 693 and his wife rolled a 683. He won the 1952 All-Star Tournament with a 205 average in 100 games.

Moon, Olney Due To Meet For Golf Title

Ted Moon and Don Olney will meet sometime next month to play off for the 1956 Pickaway Country Club golf championship.

In semi-final play, Moon defeated Bob Brooks 6 and 5. Olney had to go 20 holes before besting defending champion Tom Eveland 1 up.

The Rev. Frank Csaszar will meet Dr. Rod Heine in the finals of the first flight bracket. The Rev. Mr. Csaszar beat John Eshelman 4 and 3, while Dr. Heine beat Dick Wuest 2 and 1.

Aaron Takes Aim At Batting Crown

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Hank Aaron, Milwaukee's 22-year-old right fielder, is making a determined bid for the National League bat crown.

"I've got as good a chance as anybody else," he said.

Aaron has batted under .300 only once in his professional career and currently leads the pack with a .340 average. He has 145 hits in 426 times at bat.

135 Golfers Enter Milwaukee Open

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A hefty field of about 135 golfers, including defending champion Dr. Cary Middlecoff, open fire today in the 72-hole $35,000 Milwaukee Open.

The field includes 55 players who qualified with 76s or under Tuesday and 80 exempt pros and amateurs who will get the "feel" of the Tripoli Golf Club par-70 layout today for the first time under competitive conditions.

Marlene Hagge Threatens Suggs

The field includes 10 of the 11 top finishers in the women pro's division of the world tourney. Miss Suggs won the All-American at Tam O'Shanter a week earlier.

Lemon Goes Against Tigers Wrong Time

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bob Lemon once said it isn't so much how you pitch, as when.

Last night was the wrong time. He threw a six hitter at the Detroit Tigers and lost 1-0.

Harvey Kuenn came through for the Tigers with a double in the eighth that scored Bill Tuttle from second base. Tuttle had singled and moved to second on an infield out. It was the only time in the game either team was able to put two hits together.

The second straight loss to Detroit dropped the Indians 10½ games behind the New York Yankees. Two weeks ago the Indians beat the Yanks three straight. Since then they've lost eight of 12, while the Yanks were winning eight out of 13.

In both losses to Detroit the Indians had good pitching and poor hitting. Tuesday night Early Wynn and Don Mossi retired 28 batters in a row while the Indian batters were powerless to drive in the winning run.

Last night they missed several chances again. Al Smith struck out on a hit-and-run that wound up as a double play.

Vic Wertz, the Tribe's best power hitter this year, was out with a stomach ache, and probably will be on the bench for several days. Al Rosen was back in the lineup after missing five games.

Top Hatters Lose, Eliminated From Tournament Play

Circleville's Top Hat softballers lost an eight inning 1 to 0 game to River Oils of Chillicothe Wednesday night in district play at Greenfied.

The loss eliminated the Top Hatters from further tournament play in that it was their second loss. The locals received their first tournament defeat from the same Chillicothe team several days ago.

Losing pitcher Harry Strawser smacked a long triple in the sixth. When he attempted to stretch the hit into a homerun, he was thrown out at the plate.

Baltimore Batsman Still Goes Hitless

Miranda, who is batting .218, hasn't had a hit since Aug. 4, when he went 1-4 against the White Sox.

Since then he's been at bat 32 times with nary a single. Last night against Washington it was the same old story: 0 for 4.

He's the only Oriole who has played in all 112 of the club's games. He has 81 hits in 371 at bats and has driven in 31 runs.

Millar Says USTA Chief's Action Is OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An official of the U.S. Trotting Assn. said today that USTA President Lawrence Sheppard has violated none of the organization's rules or regulations.

Don R. Millar, executive vice president of the USTA, made the statement in reply to a demand that the USTA rename every Harness horse called "Hanover" within 30 days. The demand was voiced Tuesday in Detroit by Harness Tracks of America (HTA), an association of 18 of the nation's leading parimutuel harness tracks.

HTA charged that the USTA allowed the name to be tied in with the advertising of men's shoes in "published exploitation of the entire harness industry."

HTA said a fee of $60,000 is paid each year by a shoe manufacturer to the Hanover Shoe headed by Sheppard.

In exchange, HTA charged, all horses sold by the farm are named Hanover regardless of their breeding. HTA termed this a "flagrant violation" of USTA rules.

Millar said the HTA charge will be referred to the USTA board of directors at its next meetng. He declared that the question has never come up before.

"In my opinion," Millar said, "Mr. Sheppard has not violated the USTA registration rule since Hanover is a geographical name and not a trade name."
